of Trade.

In the beautiful, new, ground-floor room of the Arcade annex, the Newark Board of Trade, an organization to which Newark owes much for public good accomplished in the past year, held its annual business meeting and election of officers
Thursday night.

At this meeting, reports of the officials for the past year were received showing what the board has accomplished in the year just closing;
a directorate of eleven prominent and enterprising business and professional men was elected, and a number of short addresses and speeches, which were in a small way indicative of the spirit of progress which has marked the progress of the city in the last twelve months, were made.

It was a regrettable fact that the disagreeable weather had much to do with the small attendance. About 100 members of the board, one-sixth of the total enrollment, responded to the call and were seated about the small tables in the pleasant room.

Regardless of the fact that the attendance was small there were ideas advanced and suggestions made that will prove of great value to the incoming directorate in their work for the coming year.

Caterer Joseph Kuster, Jr., looked after the wants of the inner man and a delectable dinner was served to the members. The room was filled with small tables secured for the occasion and neat lunch sets of crepe tissue decorated each table.

Mr. Kuster's menu, as usual, was of excellent quality and sufficient variety to please every one. An able corps of assistants served the many tables promptly and boundedly and after coffee and cigars were served, President C. H. Spencer called the assembly to order and stated the purpose of the meeting.

He suggested the selection of a temporary chairman and upon motion,
Wm. H. Smith, of the P. Smith Sons' Lumber company, was unanimously chosen to preside at the business session.

The chairman called for the report of the retiring president, Mr. Spencer.
The report told of the accomplishments of this organization during the past year. In his remarks after the conclusion of the report, Mr.
Spencer stated that the work of the board was not that of a "one-man team," but was made up of several units, these units being the various results of the efforts of individual members of the board of directors and the efficient secretary, backed with the loyal support of the membership of the organization.

The president's report telling what has been done in 1911, why other matters were not taken up and offering suggestions for 1912, may be read on page 11 of this paper.

Upon the conclusion of the president's report, a motion prevailed to receive and file the same, furnish a copy to the four city papers for publication. An amendment to this motion, offered by O. C. Jones, to send copies of the papers, with the report marked, to a number of city papers, also carried.

When called for his report of the year's work, Secretary Wm. C. Wells addressed the members and stated that the assistant secretary and treasurer, Mr. Richards, would read a joint report from their department. This report showed the receipts and expenditures for the past year, exclusive of the public library, hospital and court house park improvement projects, which funds are handled by the treasurer of the various committees having charge of these branches of the board's work.

The secretary-treasurer's report was, upon motion, received and filed.
The following report of receipts and expenditures of the board of trade for the past year was read by Assistant Secretary Richards:

ROOSEVELT 947; TAFT 40

Medina, O., Dec. 15.—Medina county has expressed itself against the re-nomination of President Taft and has gone on record in favor of Theodore Roosevelt. The vote stands:
Roosevelt 947, LaFollette 225, Taft 40.

Harmon 156, Bryan 46, Wilson 27,
Clark 5.

By means of a postal card expression of preference, the Medina County Gazette has obtained these figures.
Three thousand cards were sent out to the electors of the county without regard to party affiliations.

JEWETT CAR COMPANY 'MAY RECEIVE CONTRACT FOR SAN FRANCISCO CARS

On another page of this paper will be found an article from the San Francisco Examiner stating that the bid of the Jewett Car company for 43 city street railway cars had been rejected by the city board of affairs.

A special telegram to the Advocate this afternoon from San Francisco gives the opinion of City Attorney Percy V. Long, which states that the contract for street cars must be let to the lowest bidder, which is the Jewett company of this city, or else all bids must be rejected.

The following is the telegram received:

(Special to Advocate.)
San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 15, 3 p. m.—City Attorney Percy V. Long, of San Francisco, Thursday evening decided that the contract for the Geary street cars must be let to the lowest bidder.

In an opinion rendered to the Board of Public Works, he said in part:

"The Jewett company's bid was the lowest regular bid, the McGuire company next lowest and the Holman bid the highest of the three.
The provision of section 17 that the board may reject any and all bids does not permit the board to reject the lowest regular bid and award the contract to the highest bidder."

"A contract entered into with the Holman company would be void for the reason that the board did not let the contract in the mode designated by the charter. As already shown, the awarding of the contract to the Holman company was contrary to the provisions of the charter and therefore void. The law then does not require Commissioner Casey to sign the contract."

This morning's San Francisco Examiner, in part, said that the city would have been obliged to pay an exorbitant figure for following the advice of Mayor McCarthy, who spent an hour in urging upon the Board of Public Works the necessity of awarding the bid to the Holman company, is evidenced by the fact that at the most but $100,000 of the total bid of $337,221 submitted by the Holman company, would have been spent in this city.

In other words the city would have had to pay $20,000 extra in order to give a $100,000 contract to a local concern. Figures made by experts show that the Holman company would have had to send east much of the large parts of the cars.

The trucks, motors, steel work, air brakes, seats, electric wiring, cash box, trolley, catcher, safety tender, and all patented devices such as a "pay as you enter" royalty would have all had to be purchased in the east, leaving the factory practically nothing to be done here but putting the cars together.

Just what action will now be taken by the Board of Public Works to let the contract for the Geary street cars has not been decided.
Two courses are open. The bid can be let to the lowest bidder, the Jewett company, of Newark, or all the bids can be rejected and new bids called for.

HOGAN AGAINST LOCAL OPTION

Columbus, O., Dec. 15.—Declaring against local option, Attorney General Hogan made a hit with Ohio hotel men in a speech before the annual banquet of the Ohio State Hotel Association, Thursday night, at the Virginia, when he said he does not believe in the dry doctrine.

Mayor-elect Karb, who acted as toastmaster, and Attorney General Hogan, both took occasion to tell the hotel men that Governor Harmon would be the next president.
Following the banquet the convention closed with a dance.

GOVERNORS ARE IN AUTO COLLISION

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 15.—Auto drivers eager to show the western governors the speed of their machines on the motor speedway today brought about a collision between two cars in which Governor Morris of Montana and Governor James M. Carey of Wyooming, were shaken up but not injured.

WATCHMAN KILLED BY HOODLUMS

Circleville, Dec. 15.—George Karr, the night watchman at a tannery here was killed by a gang of hoodlums on his way home from the canning factory.

KILLED IN FALL FROM CAR.

Chillicothe, O., Dec. 15.—E. J.
King, brakeman on the B. & O.
Southwestern, was killed early today by falling from the top of his train.

ROPE OF PEARLS COSTING $500,000 FOR MRS. F. H. GARY

New York, December 15.—Of all the Christmas presents that will gladden the hearts of the women
this year it is safe to say that none will be quite so wonderful or costly as the $500,000 pearl necklace that former Judge Elbert H. Gary has given to his wife.

It is a beautiful rope of pearls, graduating from the center one, almost the size of a cherry to the small ones at the ends, which are joined by a splendid diamond and emerald clasp. It is perhaps as valuable a single strand as can be found.

The necklace falls from around
Mrs. Gary's neck in a loop to below her bosom. There are a few more than 100 pearls in the string and each one is absolutely perfect.

Mr. Gary is the chairman of the board of directors and chairman of the finance committee of the United States Steel Corporation. His fortune has been variously estimated at from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000, one who knows him well placing it at the latter sum.
Mrs. Gary is his second wife.

GUN FIGHTER HAS TURNED EVANGELIST

Osceola, Ark., Dec. 15.—Deputy Sheriff Bob Dean, known as one of the handiest men with firearms in Northeast Arkansas, who has been shot 13 times, and who has during his career as an officer, it is said, killed as many men, mostly negroes, as he has fingers and toes, will become a traveling evangelist.

His "got religion" during a three weeks' convalescence by Rev. Raymond Browning, which will come to a close Monday night.

The last time Dean was shot was last April, when he and Marshal Ferguson were both shot by Henry Coats, an alleged bootlegger, both officers being wounded. Ferguson died. Coats was sentenced to be hanged, and his sentence upheld and date for his execution set yesterday by the governor.

Coshocton, Dec. 15.—By a majority of 570 Coshocton county yesterday discarded the Rose law after three years' trial and after a campaign marked by bitterness and strife. The wet campaign was led by the Citizens' League whose members gave the "pushed" vote to see that if saloons were voted back they should be rigidly regulated, and to that end the league has called a meeting for Friday morning with the mayor and council to frame ordinances to control the saloons.

Fifty five percent of the voters signed the wet petition and 90 percent of the retail business men enrolled in the Citizens' League, giving their published pledge to see that, if saloons are voted back, they should be rigidly regulated.

Three years ago the county voted dry by 584, the country overpowering the city, which gave 500 wet majority. This time the city went 1063 wet, and the county precincts had only 193 dry majority.

Women took little part this year beyond passing bills for dry meetings and holding prayer meetings all day yesterday. Beyond several bonfires and red fire at street corners, there was no demonstration last night, and no disorder. Three years ago 28 saloons were voted out. It is estimated that 20 will open Monday.

DARKE COUNTY REVERSES VOTE OF 3 YEARS AGO

Greenville, O., Dec. 15.—The wets were victorious yesterday in one of the most hotly contested elections ever held in Darke county by a majority of about 610 votes. The campaign was conducted under the auspices of the Business Men's League.

Despite the incessant downpour of rain the vote was unusually large,
the wets gaining in almost every precinct over the vote of three years ago, when the dries carried the county by a majority of 273 votes.

Every available method was brought to bear on the voter by the Anti-Saloon League and temperance workers to hold their vote of three years ago without avail. Tons of literature was distributed over the country by the dries. Every school child was supplied with flags, imploring them to use their influence upon the older ones to vote the county dry to save the boys and girls.
Prominent speakers appeared for both sides during the campaign.

Women took a very active part in the election, standing upon the street corners all day in the rain imploring the voters to ballot for temperance.

STRENUOUS CONTEST

New Philadelphia, Dec. 15.—The second election under the Rose law will be held in this county Dec. 21.
Three years ago the county went dry by over 300. While the contest this year is very strenuous, there is no bitterness. The dries are conducting

HUNTER LOSES AN ARM.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., Dec. 15.—Irwin C. Holly, 43 years old, residing on a farm about 15 miles west of this city, was accidentally shot by his companion, Frederick H. Poppenhouse, 19 years old, when hunting. Holly's right arm was lacer-ated so badly that physicians amputated the limb near the elbow.

TWO MORE WET

A vigorous speaking campaign and have arranged for meetings all over the county for every evening from now until the campaign closes. The wetts have also a number of meetings scheduled. Their speakers will be assisted by Homer Durand of Cincinnati. Besides a dozen or more of local speakers the dry forces will have the assistance of Judge A. Z. Blair of Portsmouth, Rev. J. K. Montgomery, president of Muskingum College; James Rice, former mayor of Canton; Congressman R. P. Hobson, Miss Florence Estian, president of the W. C. T. U., Rev. J. V. Marsh and Rev. J. S. Rutledge have also aided the drys. The wetts have a good organization, which is headed by Frank Collins, Representative Davidson of East Liverpool is aiding them.

BOTH SIDES ACTIVE

Stevensville, Dec. 15.—Jefferson county is in the midst of its second campaign for a Rose law election. The vote will be taken Dec. 21.—The contest for the drys is being conducted by Rev. J. W. Liggitt, Judge A. Z. Blair of Portsmouth, Rev. J. K. Montgomery, president of Muskingum College; James Rice, former mayor of Canton; Congressman R. P. Hobson, Miss Florence Estian, president of the W. C. T. U., Rev. J. V. Marsh and Rev. J. S. Rutledge have also aided the drys. The wetts have a good organization, which is headed by Frank Collins, Representative Davidson of East Liverpool is aiding them.

PERSONAL COMBATS

Waverly, Dec. 15.—The local option fight in Pike County has developed into a fierce personal combat. Feeling is running high and several free for all fights have been the result so far. For the drys, Judge A. Z. Blair, Wayne B. Wheeler and Scarborough of North Carolina, will make speeches, while the wetts probably will have Homer Durand, secretary of the Personal Liberty League; Rev. Mr. Meeks of Tennessee and Mr. Windle, editor of The Iconoclast. The election will be held Dec. 27.

GUM-SHOE FIGHT

Wooster, Dec. 15.—The strenuousness that was so much in evidence here during the former local option campaign in Wayne county, a little more than three years ago, is entirely lacking, with the election to be held Friday, Dec. 22. The wet forces are making a gum-shoe fight. The drys have not shown much activity, although several mass meetings have been held in Wooster and a few meetings are announced through the county.

WILL VOTE SATURDAY

Logan, Dec. 15.—The local option election in Hocking County will be held Dec. 16. Wayne B. Wheeler and Rev. John S. Rutledge of the Anti-Saloon League have been chief speakers for the drys and C. Homer Durand of Cincinnati for the wets.

Sheriff's Statement Causes Dry Panic

Zanesville, Dec. 15.—The interest in the wet and dry election in Muskingum county tomorrow is intensified today by speculation as to what effect the heavy rain which is falling will have upon the result. The wets claim in advance to profit from those forced to stay at home in the county to help them to reduce the county to the wet side. The dry majority three years ago was 1100 and the wet claim victory this year from 500 to 1000. Sheriff Prick's signed statement that "it is impossible to curb the speakases" has caused a dry panic. Both sides are devoting their entire strength to a newspaper campaign.

HAVE ESTABLISHED CO-OPERATIVE STORE

Akron, O. Dec. 15.—With a view to reducing the cost of living, residents of South Akron have launched a co-operative store in that section of the city and have in contemplation a chain of such institutions. Their idea is to do away with the middleman, to procure goods from the farmer and manufacturer direct, in large quantities and to sell them at a fair profit but below the price asked by other dealers. Each customer is to share in the profits of the store.

Bladder Trouble Causes Terrible Pains

After taking a trial bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root which you forwarded to me I purchased some from a local drug store and after using three 81 bottles I can truthfully say that I had been cured of all the terrible pains I had in my back, side and head, caused by bladder trouble. I had the worst kind of kidney trouble and suffered so that I could not even stay in bed with the pain. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root made me feel just like a new person and I am glad to recommend it to anyone suffering as I did.

IS NECESSARY TO REDUCE PENSIONS OF BLIND PEOPLE

The members of the Blind Relief Commission have sent out the following circular to those on the pension list:

It is with sincere regret that the members of the Blind Relief Commission find it necessary to reduce the pensions of all blind people in the county at this time, but the action is made necessary by the fact that the allowance by the county commissioners under the re-appointment act is not sufficient to pay the amounts at first granted, the fund already being greatly overdrawn and it being necessary to provide for other needy blind persons who are on the pension list. You will see by the enclosed certificate that your pension has been decreased and the amount you will draw hereafter will be in accordance with this certificate. The old certificate has been revoked and is of no further use to you. The county auditor has been furnished with a list of pensioners under the readjustment of pensions and will allow only according to the new paper.

NEWARK MEN AT HOT SPRINGS

A Hot Springs, Ark., newspaper just received gives a half column front page "story" concerning Messrs. E. Cary Norris and A. B. Schaeffer of this city who are there looking at land. The paper quotes these Newark men and says they were impressed with the "Arkansas on Wheels" shown in Newark recently. They are looking the ground over in order to decide whether or not to recommend purchase to a number of people whom they represent as well as to consider a personal investment. The "story" starts with this paragraph:

"One of the many illustrations that the 'Arkansas on Wheels' trip was not made in vain is seen in the visit here of two very influential citizens of Newark, Ohio, the state that 'Uncle Jud' Harmon is making famous."

RAILWAY AFFAIRS.

Safety Campaign.
A meeting of the central safety committee of general officers and the divisional safety committees of the B. & O. will be held in Wheeling on Thursday, Dec. 21, for the purpose of furthering the safety campaign recently inaugurated. There will also be a meeting of the officers and employees, at which time the work will be outlined to the men. The campaign is meeting with pronounced success all over the B. & O. system and it is likely that the Wheeling meeting will lend much enthusiasm to the work.

Cars Must Be Equipped.
Constructing the safety appliance law, the federal supreme court has held that the railroads must see that no cars are handled or used that are not properly equipped, no matter how or when the appliance may be put out of order.

No Christmas Rates.
As was the rule with Thanksgiving, the Central Passenger Association has decided that roads in its territory will not offer rates as an inducement for travel. This action together with similar action by associations in the east and west, means that persons traveling in practically any part of the country will be compelled to "put up" full fare.

Affecting Telegraphers.
More than 12,000 railroad telegraphers are affected by the decision of United States Judge Howard C. Hollister in fixing the Big Four railroad $500 and costs for violating the federal law relating to the employment of such persons.

Suit was brought against the railway company for compelling Earl Betts and L. E. Davidson to work 12 hours a day in handling trains.

The law covering this form of employment was passed in 1907 and it was signed by President Roosevelt, becoming operative a year later. It limits such employees to nine hours a day. In this instance Betts and Davidson worked five days of 12 hours.

After hearing the testimony Judge Hollister took the case from the jury and inflicted the fine. The counsel for the railway company at once gave notice of appeal and announced that the case would be carried to the United States supreme court for final adjudication, on the ground that it was unconstitutional. No defense was made to the petition filed by the department of justice.

The Santa Claus Bazaar will be continued on Saturday afternoon at Trinity Parish House.

SUCCEMSED TO OPERATION FOR APPENDICITIS

Harry L. Williams, a well known glassblower of Utica, who has been suffering with appendicitis for some time, was brought to Newark Wednesday and taken to the City Hospital, where he underwent an operation. He however, continued to rapidly decline and passed away Thursday night at 10 o'clock. The body was taken to the undertaking parlors of Criss Bros. & Jones, where it was prepared for burial and it will be shipped tonight to Zanesville, where the interment will be made. The deceased is survived by his widow and several children.

AWAY GOES CATARRH AND BAD COLDS

Ely's Cream Balm Cures Sore Nose and Throat, Catarrhal Head-aches and Colds.

No matter how bad your catarrh, how much your head aches, or how miserable you are with a cold in the head, nostrils stopped up, always getting, bad breath, you always get immediate relief by using Ely's Cream Balm.

Don't let your entire system be poisoned by the deadly catarrh germ which, sooner or later causes complete decay of bone and tissue. The continual dropping of the germ infected discharge down the throat leads to catarrh of the stomach and bowels.

Get a 50 cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist today, and you will get relief a few minutes after using it. Your headache and cold will vanish, and in a short time you will be completely rid of catarrh.

Where a spray is needed, ask for Ely's (Liquid) Cream Balm. Give it to the children for colds and croup. It is perfectly harmless.

WOMAN ACCUSES NEGRO.
Louisville, Ky., Dec. 15.—Virgil McCall, a negro, is in jail on the charge of attempting to attack Mrs. Frank Loto, of 321 South Third street, who had hired him to do work around the house. The woman shows scratches sustained during the alleged assault.

HOWE'S PICTURES.

In spite of a hard downpour of rain during the entire evening, a fair sized audience saw the Lyman H. Howe pictures at the Auditorium theater on Thursday evening. Lyman Howe has brought his pictures to the highest pinnacle of excellence and his "travel festival" is an education in itself.

Aside from the clarity and the good judgment, the care exercised in the selection of subjects make the pictures entertaining to a audience of many tastes.

The coronation of King George and Queen Mary was one of the topics which afforded much entertainment and the coronation drill by the Redham orphans of London was one of the marvels. Interspersed with the travel lore were a number of picture playlets, both in comedy and drama. Mr. Howe promises a return date in the near future.

Press Agent Says:

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN." The survival of the fittest is amply illustrated in the long life of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which has been before the public for more than most of this paper's readers care to remember. This truly American stage classic's present day popularity has long furnished food for thought among producing managers. Playwrights and the public generally. That it will never die, but live on forever, seems an assured fact insofar as the Stetson company is concerned. This famous dramatic organization is due here on Saturday, matinee and night, in an entirely new and up-to-the-minute dress.

"THE SQUAW MAN."

Playgoers will no doubt view with great favor "The Squaw Man," which will be seen at the Auditorium on Monday, Dec. 18, being presented here with a specially selected company.

"The Squaw Man" from all reports, easily ranks as one of the most substantial hits of the past season. It is said to contain more generous laughs than many a farce, and the love interest is absorbing. The play is said to be strong, convincing and uncommonly interesting and proves particularly effective as a dramatic vehicle because it deals with a familiar subject in a most virile manner.

THE ORPHEUM.

Hawthorne's Merry Minstrel Maids proved one of the biggest hits of the season at the popular Arcade theater yesterday afternoon and both performances last night. The magnificent settings and surroundings which first greet the eye on the rise of the curtain are a surprise, but the singing of the girls is excellent and the line of talk by the "end men" is about as comical as one would wish to hear. Every one of the singers has a fine cultivated voice. The act is beautifully costumed and is a big hit. The act comes to Newark direct from Keith's.

Madell and Corbly, two clever people, present an excellent character musical skit entitled, "Summer Boarders and Sun-R-Not." They introduce six different characters during their act which is just as funny as can be and they carry a line of novel instruments which are very pleasing.

Billy Hawthorne, as the colored politician, has quite a humorous line of talk as the senator and kept his audience applauding. Amy Hawthorne offers quite a pleasing specialty in songs and imitations. The Orpheumscope has a very good film.

BAD WEATHER INTERFERES WITH XMAS SHOPPING

The very disagreeable weather that we have had during the past few days has had the effect of badly interfering with the Christmas shopping. The merchants of Newark have spared no pains to lay in large stocks of Christmas goods, and it is too bad that the weather man could not have postponed the rain for a few days. However, the indications are for colder weather, and if we have the right kind of weather between now and Christmas, a lively trade will be the result.

BLOODHOUNDS GIVE CLUE TO MURDER OF FOUR PEOPLE

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 15.—Thanks to bloodhounds and a crew furnished by the police of Hudson, the Rensselaer county authorities hope soon to apprehend Edward Donato, or Ed Dennis, an Italian farm hand, sought in connection with the murder of the Morner family Tuesday afternoon at their home in the village of Deforestville.

The bodies of Mrs. Morner, her two daughters, Edith and Blanche, and her son Arthur were found half buried in the cow stable of their barn.

A Hudson officer, who says he has known Donato for two years, said yesterday he met him Wednesday, and that Donato asked how soon he could get a train for Pittsfield, Mass. The police of Pittsfield have been notified.

An autopsy disclosed that Blanche Morner had been attacked. This, the police say, furnished the motive for the crime.

A MARRIED WOMAN'S RIGHT TO RULE.

(Elia Ellis in The Arch)

"It is cruel to say it, but only the woman who takes care to preserve her youthful charm has a right to rule her husband's heart. She should never neglect her hair or complexion."

"The hair can be kept light and fluffy and beautifully lustrous by dry shampooing. Mix four ounces of Therax with four ounces of powdered orris root or four ounces of cornmeal, whichever you prefer. Sprinkle on the head and brush through the hair."

"To keep the skin soft and lovely, and prevent the growth of hair gently massage the face, neck and arms daily with a solution made by dissolving an original package of mayatone in eight ounces of witch hazel. This is better than powder."

"Mother's Salve will remove chaps, cold sores, eczema and skin eruptions. It is a reliable cure for coughs, colds and catarrh, as well the best salve for sores, cuts, burns and scalds."

DAVIS DIES IN ELECTRIC CHAIR AT PEN

Columbus, Dec. 15.—Thomas Davis, colored, former Columbus man who was convicted of killing two Hungarians near Circleville for the purpose of robbery, died in the electric chair at the penitentiary shortly after Thursday midnight. With his electrocution the prison annex is empty for the first time since 1908.

Before he was led to the chair Davis handed Chaplain Richards a signed statement in which he said Frank Taylor, the negro who was convicted with him, and who is serving a life sentence, had no connection with the crime, and that he was not even present when the shooting took place.

A woman, who had accompanied sisters of the dead man to the annex Thursday evening to say goodbye broke down and became hysterical as she was leaving the death chamber at 10 o'clock. Her shrieks could be heard throughout much of the big prison. When asked if he had anything to say, Davis asked the witnesses to read the first chapter of Romans from the 32d verse through the second chapter, and think of the sins they have committed. Besides prison officials, only 12 wit-

HUNTER WILL TEST OHIO GAME LAWS IN BIG LAW SUIT

Chardon, O., Dec. 15.—A test of the game laws of Ohio may be made through the suit for $10,000 damages filed yesterday in the Geauga county court by John Tell, of Cleveland, against Alfred J. Rhodes, game warden of this county.

Rhodes arrested Tell in Russell township on October 20 on a charge of having killed a rabbit out of season. Tell was taken before W. H. Osborne, in Chardon, and was discharged.

The Cleveland man claims that his reputation and credit were injured by the arrest and the publication of the fact in newspapers.

Prominent Families Implicated In a Series of Crimes

Laporte, Ind., Dec. 15.—James Mitchell, Stanley J. Fout and Jacob Byers, members of prominent Knox (Ind.) families, today confessed to the authorities that they had been guilty of numerous burglaries which have been committed in the town. Within the last 30 days both stores and residences have been looted of valuable goods. Fully a dozen burglaries are embodied in the confessions. The ages of the boys are 13, 15 and 16 years, and they have been held to await grand jury action.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Warm Baths.
Warm baths will do much to sustain your strength and stimulate tired nerves. Good effects are derived by taking a hot bath, scrubbing the pores and then taking a cold shower. If you have no shower in the house, shelling the body with cold water will answer the purpose.
This brings the blood to the surface and acts like magic on the tired woman.

The popular town of Coshocton, so famed for its hospitality, whole-souled people, and progressiveness concluded its bitter "wet" and "dry" fight Thursday and made a radical change of the conditions that had been brought on by the vote of three years ago. The county and city gave a wet majority of 570, reversing the dry majority of 581 three years ago, and making a total change of 1451.
Leading business men of the city took a prominent part in the campaign favoring the change from present conditions, among whom were such well known former Newark citizens as J.
Q. Baker, Thaddeus Montgomery and J. M. Maylone.

wife outside a hotel while he went to consult about a room. She was escorted by Pines and the frag-edy followed.

THE CREDIT THAT NEWARK JUSTLY DESERVES

A Philadelphia paper prints a dispatch from Columbus, depicting the "Riotous Scenes of Newark, Ohio."
The dispatch was an exaggerated story of the search and seizure raid on a closed place in this city under the authority of officers of an outside village on Tuesday, which drew a crowd of curiosity spectators. The dispatch makes a great sensation out of a trivial incident, simply because it occurred in Newark, Ohio.

A number of other prominent newspapers printed similar dispatches, a column in length, highly sensational in character, all for the purpose of giving our city unfavorable notoriety.

But why should Newark be made the victim of a sensation because some 300 curiosity spectators are drawn together to witness the scene of an attempt to make forcible entrance into a closed place under the authority of officials of an outside village?

Is it forgotten that only some six weeks ago a gang of sleuths came down from Cleveland to Wooster on a Saturday night to make a raid and that a mob of 1000 gathered at the scene in 15 minutes?

Fortunately for the good name of Wooster, the raiders hastily got away and no violence occurred.

But the spirit of indignation at outside interference to govern affairs in a city was as much in evidence at Wooster as it is in Newark, and the same feeling prevails everywhere.

The same Philadelphia paper that printed the sensational dispatch from Columbus was fair and honest enough some few weeks ago to frankly admit the highly creditable record of Newark, Ohio, when showing was made of its contrast with Coatesville, Pa., in the punishment of lynching rioters.

All Ohio is getting credit today in the eyes of the outside world for punishing lynchers. Yet not a single case of punishment of lynching rioters has occurred in any city of the state except those in Newark. Our own city is singly and alone furnishing this great commonwealth with the reputation it is enjoying today for the punishment of the crime of lynching.

NEWARK'S ATONEMENT.

(Editorial Cleveland Plain Dealer, December 15, 1911.)
Eleven men sent to the penitentiary. Lynching, of course, has no intelligent defenders. While no community is quite secure against the kind of temporary insanity which expresses itself in such a crime, none which has been carried off its balance by such an attack, can afford for its own good and the good of society to refuse whatever expiation the circumstances permit.
This explanation Newark has made.
The record should be called to the attention of the nation.

Musical Standards Have Been Elevated

By F. L. MICHAELSON
Birmingham, Ala.

Musical standards in this country have been greatly raised during the past few years. I have been reading with interest discussions about the educational requirements of those who study music seriously. I still consider myself a young man, but I have observed educational conditions in Europe and America long enough to have some definite ideas regarding cultural progress on this side of the Atlantic.
The old world, of course, has had the advantage of centuries of art development.
In this country, comparatively new, little attention seems to have been paid to art until about 35 or 40 years ago. In music there has been rapid progress in the past 10 or 15 years. I can remember when anyone who could play a little or sing a little was called a musician. Now no one is recognized as much of a musician unless he or she has a good deal of gray matter, has studied the theory of music and has a solid literary education as well. I speak especially of recent musical standards in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and other great cities.

It will not be many years before every music teacher in the country will be thoroughly equipped from a pedagogic point of view, and will insist on the pupils studying with a purpose of enlarging their mental horizon.

ONLY IN BOOKS.

It's only in books that the wonderful sleuth looms up on the scene of a crime, and drags from a mountain of chaos the truth, in less than ten minutes of time. It's only in books that the wealthy man dies, bequeathing a million of bones, to the virtuous schoolboy who helped him to rise when he fell on the red pavement.
It's only in books that the beautiful girl, who is richer than a Turk, hands forth the ice tongs to a duke or an earl, and marries a grocery clerk. It's only in books that the in-jun appears a hero of bearing sub-line, and not a cheap skate with a scurrying for bees and a longing to hollow a dime. It's only in books that the poor man invents a flood of ideas, that brings him the brass? It's only in books that the pirate repents and teaches a Sabbath school class. It's only in books that the morning mail brings the news of a fortune to you!
It's only in books that the improbable things are worked off as though they were true.

CASCARETS INSURE INSIDE CLEANLINESS

The Millions of Cascaret Users Never Have Headache, Constipation, Biliousness or Sick Stomach.

It is more necessary that you keep your bowels, liver and stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A ten cent box from your druggist will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children —their little insides need a good,
gentle cleansing, too.

DEAN LAW TEST,

Carried Up From Stark County, Now Before Ohio Supreme Court.

Columbus, Dec. 15.—Action intended to test the constitutionality of the Dean saloon character act passed by the last legislature was filed in the supreme court yesterday. The action is one of Benton J. Bloomfield against the state of Ohio and is carried up from Stark county.

Bloomfield was charged with falsely answering the fourth question on the application for permission to open a saloon. This question pertains to the selling of liquor to minors and habitual inebriates and it was alleged that Bloomfield falsely swore that he did not sell to them.

Attorneys for Bloomfield claim in their petition that the Dean act is in contravention of the constitution in that it licenses the sale of liquor without authority of the constitution.

State of Ohio, Licking County, ss:

Personally appeared before me this 15th day of December, 1911, William Jones, who deposes and says that in the presence of C. H. Neithers and his sons, Archie and Stanley, and Alfred Sikes, I read a petition to them and John Penn, which prayed for an election under the Rose Law. In the conversation I stated this dry farce should cease and the county should legalize the saloons so they would have to pay the license of $1,000 a year and not so on selling, paying nothing. Mr. Penn said he thought the same and was glad to have a chance to sign the petition, took it and did sign it. I did not say anything about a dry petition and made no other representation about it, which Mr. Penn well knows.

Mr. J. H. Miller as the head of the dry movement, securing and writing the affidavit containing the false statements and paying to have it resenting me is certainly neither fair, honorable or commendable on the part of J. H. Miller.

TEACHERS ARE ARRAIGNED BY COMMISSIONER

Columbus, Dec. 15—Further announcements were made today by State School Commissioner Miller in connection with the investigation he has been conducting into state schools and which revealed shocking conditions throughout Ohio river territory, severely arraigning many elementary school teachers for incompetency and neglect and accusing them of improperly conducting the affairs of their schools.

Antiquated methods of teaching are in effect in many schools, said Mr.
Miller, and discrimination in favor of certain pupils by the teachers is practiced. Law breaking prevails in some districts because of inability of teachers and children to comply with the laws.

In many schools the old-fashioned and best method of teaching children their letters is still in force and the more modern methods ignored. This alone results in delaying the child's progress for more than a year. Only

CHARGES ABSURD SAYS MINISTER

Junction City, Kas., Dec. 15.—The Rev. Charles M. Brewer, deposed army chaplain and now a pastor at Olathe, Okla., arrived here today to face charges in connection with recent dynamiting at Fort Riley, Kas.
With Mrs. Anna Jordan, of Kansas City, Mo., and five privates of Battery E, Sixth field artillery, the minister was closely questioned by a government prosecutor.

"The accusations made in connection with dynamite outrages at Fort Riley, insofar as my name has been associated with them, are absurd," said the Rev. Mr. Brewer. "I shall have no trouble in proving an alibi.
I do not know Private Michael Quirk by name. Nor do I know Mrs. Anna Jordan. I never heard of her before."

The federal authorities are looking for a mysterious stranger who met George W. Chase, United States commissioner, on the street Tuesday night before anyone else here except the commandant of the post, knew of the dynamite plot.

The stranger gave Chase a detailed account of the alleged plot and the accusations against the Rev.
Brewer, though he did not say where he had received his information. Then he disappeared.

JEWELLERS SAFE BLOWN.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 15—The safe in the jewelry store of C. H. Drexheimer, located in the suburbs of this city, was blown open early today and watches and jewelry valued at $1,000 stolen.

KILLED BY TREE.

Norwalk, Dec. 15—William F.
Ketcham, a farmer, was killed instantly near here today when a tree he was cutting down fell upon him.

SOCIETY

Unless the cold and dreary rain with which the merchants have been blessed during the past several days gives way to cold and "Christmassy" snow it is to be feared that shoppers will not awake to the nearness of the great feast day until the day is upon them. But then who wants to go "a buying of gifts" in a downpour of rain. But it really is to be regretted for the shops have never been filled with prettier or more practical gifts than this year.

In one store a shopper ran across the cleverest kind of a coin purse and distinctly a novelty. It was an alligator's claw and when the word alligator is mentioned in connection with purses of any kind it insures their beauty. The top of the claw fastens with a clasp and the finishing touch is given in a heavy brown silk cord which slips over the arm so that the little purse can be worn with a muff. The price was only seventy-five cents and makes a most desirable gift.

In toyland an ingenuity has entered that has never been noticed before. Doll making has become an art. Instead of the overdressed expressionless doll of the past day, the shops this year show dolls in rompers. Dollies in all ages. Cunning little infants in long dresses. Dolls crying, and dolls laughing. For the boys electricity has entered the realm of toymen and miniature trolley cars run by a battery whirl around the tracks in a dizzy way. Great little steam trains hustle along past miniature telegraph poles and through miniature tunnels.

Delightful things are furnished for the grown ups and marvelous things for the little tots and all of them are to be found in the home stores.

The Woman's Mission circle of the Fifth Street Baptist church held the regular monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Metz in Second street. The following program was given:

Devotional Leader—Mrs. Phillip Rank.
Missionary Work in the West Indies—Read by Mrs. B. M. Bishop and written by Mrs. J. V. Hilliard.
News from Alaska—Mrs. J. B. Jones.

A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess. The assistants were Mrs. Benjamin Hendricks, Mrs. Wey, Mrs. T. J. Pratt and Mrs. J. K. Dewey.

The Wednesday Afternoon Sewing and Reading club met with Mrs. Nez Davis at her home on Pine street on the club day. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in sewing and conversation after which the hostess served an elegant two course lunch. The guests of the club were Mrs. Jas. Atherton, Master Harold Atherton and Mrs. Edward Brooks.

The Unity Reading Circle was entertained at the home of Mrs. Loudin on Thursday afternoon. The following program was given:

FRANCE.
"The man who fights against his country is never a hero."—Victor Hugo.
Roll call—What I Would Like to See in France and Why.
Napoleon, The Man, and Soldier—Mrs. Loudin.
City of Paris—Mrs. Barrick.
Home Life in France—Mrs. McGough.
Tour Through France—Mrs. Bockoven.

Critic—Mrs. Moore.
Critic's Report—Mrs. Millisor.
The guests were Mrs. McMillen, Mrs. George Roley, Mrs. John S. Rugg.

A pianoforte recital was given by the pupils of Mrs. Charles B. White on Thursday evening, December 14 at the studio in the Trust Building. The following was the program:

Raff, March from Fifth Symphony—Miss Weiant, Miss Swingle, Miss Collins, Miss Bots.
Mendelssohn, Nos. 50 and 28, Songs Without Words—Miss Harriet Orr.
Louis III, Gavotte; Schubert, Soirees de Vienne—Miss Maude Cochran.
Pierne, Serenade—Miss Frances Fulton.

Godard, Lamartine, Fragment Poetique; Saint-Saens, First Mazurka—Miss Mary Swingle.

Mohr, Rondo brillante—Miss Cathryn Jones, Miss Elvira Evans.
Friml, La Sevillans—Miss Ethel Haynes.

Dennie, Forest Sounds—Miss Lucille Cully.
Schumann, Papillons Op. 2—Miss Marion Weiant.

Dvorak, Slavonic Dance—Miss Martha Wright, Miss Ethel Haynes.

STEWART-CANTER.
At the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Johnson, 127 Day avenue, was solemnized the marriage of Mr. George H. Stewart and Mrs. Louis R. Canter on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. J. W. Lamp read the marriage service. All their friends will join in wishing them a happy married life.

A notable society event of next week will be the entertainment given by Miss Finch, the dialect story teller, for the benefit of the Public Library at the Auditorium of the High school. A number of prominent society people are patronesses of the event.

A square deal for all is a Red Cross Christmas seal. At the Advocate office.

DRIVES A COLD OR THE GRIPPE FROM SYSTEM

You can surely end Grippe and break up the most severe cold either in head, chest, back, stomach or limbs, by taking a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

It promptly relieves the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, running of the nose, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, without interference with your usual duties and with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

One of the most enjoyable events in organized social work to be given this season was the recital given by Heluck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution on Thursday afternoon. The Plymouth Congregational church was filled with the members of the chapter and their friends to hear the delightful program prepared by Mrs. J. Morriston Thomas and her accompanist, Mrs. Ashton, of Granville, who is organist of the church.

Mrs. Thomas possesses a beautiful voice and sang several difficult numbers and these served but to enhance the worth of her reading on "The value of a musical education." A number of instrumental numbers were given by the organist.

Following the musicale a banquet was served to over 150 diners in the banquet hall of the church. Heluck chapter had as their guests the members of the Granville chapter of the D. A. R. and a number of Newark friends.

Miss Mary Mikesell was the recipient of a pleasant surprise at the hands of a large number of her friends at her home on West Locust street Thursday evening in honor of the anniversary of her birth. The evening was most delightfully spent in games, music and in having a good social time. At 10 o'clock a delicious luncheon was served, which was greatly enjoyed by all. Miss Mikesell was the recipient of a number of handsome and useful presents, tokens of the esteem in which she is held by her friends. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hupp, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grimm, Misses Emma Boggs, Susan Taafel, Anna Toothaker, Marie Gilbert, Alice Riddle and Mary Mikesell; Messrs. Walter Pine, Leo Stevens, Clyde Kelley, Everett Francis, Earl Youse, Fred Kirkpatrick, Harry Tannen, Walter Crawford and Homer Saunders.

Miss Mary Follett is entertaining the members of the Phi Beta Psi sorority this afternoon at her home in Hudson avenue. Miss Follett was entertaining out of compliment to Miss Corinne Miller, who has been visiting here but Miss Miller was called to Louisville, Ky.

The Thursday Evening Sewing club was entertained on the club night of this week at the home of Miss Elizabeth Rafferty. The hours were merrily spent with the needles and a dainty luncheon was served. The guests were: Helen Stapleton, Marjory Fisher, Mary Hudson, Rosanna and Grace Dennison, Rose Mary and Bernice Floyd and Oletha Hilbrecht.

Mrs. Hulda Harter entertained on Monday evening the members of Royal Neighbors Camp at Hebron. Mrs. Harter is going west to spend the winter. A dainty lunch was served. Those present were: Addie Woolard, Carrie Lydzell, Nell and Philberta Hutzel, Ada Lydie, Myrtle Holtsberry, Mrs. Lydie, Katharine Hutzel, Grace Holtsberry, Mrs. Boyland and Hulda Harter.

The most searching questions are invited by Dr. Hall, who will deliver a lecture on "When Eden Comes and Dead Men Live" in the high school auditorium Sunday afternoon. 15-21

EXPRESS CAR LOOTED.
Terre Haute, Ind., Dec. 15.—When the Pennsylvania Vandalia train westbound arrived here last night the door of an Adams Express car was found open and packages thrown about the floor. A man was seen leaving the car as the train entered the city. Several packages consigned to Terre Haute are missing.

TELLS OF TRAPPING THE BRIBE TAKERS

Crown Point, Ind., Dec. 15.—Thos. D. Dean, complaining witness in the bribery case against officials of Gary, Ind., took the witness stand today before Judge Van Fleet in the trial of Alderman Walter Gibson one of the accused officials. Dean testified that he went to Gary for the purpose of obtaining a franchise for a heating plant and that he became convinced that he could not get the franchise without bribing the officials. He then decided he declared, that he would entrap all men who wanted the bribe.

OUTING'S JANUARY AUTOMOBILE NUMBER.

Outing, in January, will interest the autoist. Special articles on "Types of Automobile Motors," by Harold Whiting Slauson; "What It Cost to Keep an Automobile," by John Earl, and "A Little Law for Motorist," by Thomas Foster, are given, and a semi-humorous story by "The Automobile Guest," Charles W. Furlong's "The Motorist and His Land," is a readable, fully illustrated survey of men and conditions in this interesting country, and J. Earl Clauson's trip "In Quest of the Newfoundland" is described and its results illustrated. The first voyage of Shackles, "Footloose and Free," is amusingly related by Stephen Chalmers in real ship-shape.

Among practical articles are "The Killing Power of Rifles," Horace Keppel; "The Useful Alredale," by Williams Haynes, and "The Rhodé Island Reds," by Arthur S. Wheeler.

The trials of "A Tenderfoot on Snowshoes" and "The Girl at Hard Bargain," by Neil G. Henshaw, are among the excellent fiction in January Outing.

The Outing Magazine, 25 cents, all newsstands; subscription, $2.00.

Dr. Hall, of New York, the man who answers all questions from the Bible, will deliver his famous lecture, "When Eden Comes and Dead Men Live," in the high school auditorium Sunday, Dec. 17, at 4 p. m. Ministers specially invited to ask questions on his subject. 15-21

HAIR HEALTH

If You Have Scalp or Hair Trouble, Accept This Offer.

When we promise your money back for the mere asking if Rexall "93" Hair Tonic does not do as we claim it will, you certainly have no reason for even hesitating to try it. We do not ask you to obligate yourself in any way.

We could not afford to so strongly endorse Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and continue to sell it as we do, if it did not do all we claim. Should our enthusiasm carry us away, and Rexall "93" Hair Tonic not give entire satisfaction to the users, they would lose faith in us and our statements, and in consequence our business prestige would suffer.

Therefore, when we assure you that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will promptly eradicate dandruff, stimulate hair growth and prevent premature baldness, you may rest assured we know what we are talking about.

We honestly believe that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will do more than any other hair tonic agency toward restoring hair growth and hair health. It is not greasy and will not gum the scalp or hair or cause permanent stain. It is as pleasant to use as pure cold water. It comes in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain it only at our store—The Rexall Store, Frank D. Hall, druggist, Newark, O.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Thought Garden and What Grows There

The Fairy Shows Daddy the Garden

"LAST night," said daddy, "I had a curious dream. Do you want to hear about it?"

"Oh, yes; do tell us about it," cried Jack and Evelyn.

"Well, I came to a beautiful country where there were all sorts of pretty gardens—hundreds and hundreds of little plots laid out with little hedges between. And at the gate to each garden was a little sign bearing a name. Willie and Ethel and Mary and George and Julia were some of the names I saw."

The children smiled, for these were the names of their cousins.

"But I shall not tell you anything about those gardens, for I came to two little gardens, side by side, and over the gate of one was Evelyn's name and over the other was yours, Jack."

"Presently I saw a little figure flying through the air. It was the dearest little fairy. First she perched on one of the hedge plants and peered down into Jack's garden."

"Oh, dear," cried the fairy; "there is another horrid thorny cactus coming up in Jack's garden! And those weeds! Oh, dear, if he could only see his garden!"

"I stepped up to the little fairy and said politely: 'Ma'am, it would be a favor if you would tell me about these gardens. I'm rather well acquainted with Jack and Evelyn.'"

"Oh, do you really know the dear children?" cried the fairy joyously.

"So we had a good chat, the fairy and I. I found out what all those little gardens meant. They are the Gardens of Thought. Whenever a little boy or girl thinks a good thought a little seed begins to sprout in his garden, and by and by it opens out into a nice flower. The nicer the thought the nicer the flower. But whenever they think a mean or naughty thought a horrid weed comes sprouting up or an ugly cactus all covered with spikes and thorns. There was a nice big dahlia growing in Jack's garden of which I was very proud. The fairy said that was the thought that led Jack to give up his afternoon at the baseball match and stay with Evelyn when she had that sprained ankle. There were several nice roses in Evelyn's garden, and one of them, I heard, grew there when she pricked her fingers so patiently working that nice birthday pin cushion for daddy. But it grieved me to see that the weeds were so many."

"And after that the garden faded away, and I awakened up with Jack snoring in the next room, but I'm sure that garden is over there in Dreamland just as I saw it, and you, Jack and Evelyn, as well as those other little boys and girls, would better be careful what you plant."

Used Good Judgment.
The flushing of the streets around the public square before there was a freeze was a good piece of judgment. The crossings are now cleaner than they have been for some time.

Subject to Taxation.
Lodge men are discussing a recent ruling by Attorney General Hogan to the effect that all funds, lodge and clubroom furniture and paraphernalia owned by fraternal organizations in Ohio are subject to taxation along with real estate that they have been paying taxes on.

Streams are Rising.
The rains of the past few days have begun to affect different branches of the Licking River, but not as much as might have been expected. While the water, on several occasions, has reached a high stage, it has subsided before any damage was done, the ground having absorbed most of it. Should it continue to rain it will not take much to cause the streams to rise as the ground is now full of water.

Sent Woman to Jail.
Louis Black, an East Newark woman, was given a hearing before Mayor Ankole Thursday afternoon on a charge of keeping a house of questionable repute. She was found guilty and fined $5 and costs and sentenced to the county jail for 30 days. The mayor states that the woman persisted in harboring a 19 year old boy in the place in defiance of orders to keep him out.

Visiting Sick Mother.
Charles H. Bentley, the glass worker whose mother was reported seriously ill, at Milan, Ill., and who was notified of her illness through a letter addressed to Mayor Ankole, sent a letter to the mayor thanking

C. U. Revival.
The North Newark revival continues to draw large crowds and a great work is being done, more than seventy-five have professed Christ. Evangelist I. B. Dillin will preach this evening on "Agrippa at the Bar of Conscience and God." Special singing by Evangelist Lillian Dillin.

Annual Xmas Offering.
The annual offering of the Second Presbyterian church Sunday school to brighten Christmas for the needy, will be received next Sunday morning, Dec. 17, at 11:30. Toys, books, canned goods, sacks for the pantry, vegetables and money, will all be welcome. Roly goods may be sent to the manse on Saturday. Mr. William Hawkins, superintendent of schools, will give a short address.

B. & O. Pay Today.
The checks for the payment of the employees of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company at this point, arrived here Friday morning on No. 7 and are being handed out at the freight depot. The amount of money distributed among the employees of the company in Newark each month amounts to the neighborhood of $120,000. Coming as it does just at this time, the merchants of Newark will be greatly benefitted.

Names Were Omitted.
In the account of the birthday party given Peter Ritzer by the Nightingales and a number of other friends Wednesday night, the names of two gentlemen who were most active in getting up the affair and who contributed much to the enjoyment of the occasion, were omitted, being Messrs. Clem Cole and Eddie March. Both these gentlemen are polished after-dinner speakers and

SPEND $5,000,000 FOR CAR SHOPS

Chicago, Dec. 13.—Plans are being prepared, it is said, for the building of car shops of the two Pennsylvania lines, the Fort Wayne and the Panhandle roads, near Chicago. The company has been planning for months to concentrate its big work in a central plant.

To carry out this big scheme an expenditure of $5,000,000 is to be used. As supplies of all kinds may be more easily purchased and delivered in and around Chicago than Pittsburgh, the directors' choice has made Chicago the place for the great plant, which will be several times larger than any similar plant in the country.

RELIEF CHAIRMAN IS ELECTROCUTED AT BRICEVILLE

Briceville, Tenn., Dec. 13.—Thomas Watts, head of the Briceville mine disaster relief committee, was electrocuted this morning while leading a fight on a fire in the town of Coal Creek, of which he was mayor. Coal Creek is four miles from Briceville.

The fire was in an undertaker's coffin house. Watts had climbed to the tin roof on an adjoining building, which had come in contact with a live wire. He died instantly.

The fire that has raged in the Cross mountain mine for 48 hours was extinguished this morning. Rescue parties penetrated farther into the mine and discovered six bodies, making the total of known dead, 67. All hope of finding any more men in the mine alive has been given up.

Money Saved

Each one of the four lines of figures spell a word. This most interesting puzzle can be solved with a little study as follows: There are 26 letters in the alphabet and we have used figures in spelling the words instead of letters. Letter A is number 1, B number 2, C number 3, etc. throughout the alphabet. Anyone sending us a solution to this puzzle will receive free of charge the choice of a beautiful elegant Hat Pin or a Scarf Pin set with pretty jewel. This will more than repay you for your effort and you will be more than will be more than pleased with the gift.

Each one will also receive our MONEY SAVING PROPOSITION on Pianos, showing how $115 can be saved and how you may secure any one of the following beautiful premiums FREE of charge:

- Used Piano.
- One Parlor Rocker.
- One Handsome Dinner Set.
- One Violin.
- One used Organ.
- One Gent's Watch.
- One Beautiful Ladies' Watch.

We reserve the right to issue discount vouchers or not, as we see fit, and will be guided solely by the correctness of your reply. These will not be redeemable in cash by anyone and will be good only as a down payment toward the purchase price of a new piano. Remember we are the big store with the big business with the little price, and have been building and selling good pianos for 25 years. Our proposition will surprise you; it is so different and common sense. Send or mail all replies not later than Dec. 23.

A Song for Christmas

HANT me a rhyme of Christmas—
Sing me a jovial song—
And though it is filled with laughter,
Let it be pure and strong

Sing of the hearts brimmed over
With the story of the day—
Of the echo of childish voices
That will not die away—

Of the blare of the tasseled bugle,
And the timeless clatter and beat
Of the drum that throbs to muster Squadrons of scampering feet.

But, O, let your voice fall fainter,
Till, blent with a minor tone,
You temper your song with the beauty
Of the pity Christ hath shown.

And sing one verse for the voiceless;
And yet, ere the song be done,
A verse for the ears that hear not,
And a verse for the sightless one.

For thought it be time for singing
A merry Christmas glee,
Let a low, sweet voice of pathos
Run through the melody.

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY.

Children and Christmas in Many Lands

THE little folks of all the world do not keep Christmas as the children of this country do. In fact each land has its own peculiar ways, and our people, being drawn originally from almost every clime, have introduced into our celebration of the day a bit of the Christmas features brought from mother countries. We have the Dutch Santa Claus, the German Christmas tree, the English plum pudding and carols and our own peculiarly lavish gift making.

The boys and girls of far distant countries are spending the day in such different ways that it may prove of interest to young and old to hear something of the distinctive Christmas customs.

THE English Christmas is not unlike ours, save that we do not have their pretty custom of "bringing in the yule." In almost every family in England the boys and girls gather about the burning log on Christmas eve to sing carols and tell Christmas legends. Often the children who live in the country assist at the dragging in of the huge log.

An English child would not feel it was Christmas if there was not a bit of mistletoe hanging in the hall, under which the unwary are kissed soundly. Little and big eat the rich and blazing plum pudding, and all join in the singing of Christmas carols and church-going.

CHRISTMAS in Holland is the gala day of the year for the children. They have a pretty custom of ushering it in. Just at midnight on Christmas eve, the men and boys dressed in fancy costume, march through the streets in long procession, holding aloft a brilliantly lighted star, as they chant the "Gloria in Excelsis." The little girls clad in white stand at the windows and bow to the star as it passes.

PERHAPS the finest Christmas of all, if not the most lavish, is spent by the children of Germany. It combines the Christ child—which we Americans are prone to forget—and Santa Claus.

The whole day is full of cheer; families feast and go to church; presents are simple, but in every home is a blazing tree hung with cakes, colored candles and gifts. It is a pretty sight to see the children march in to see their tree, singing as they go, "O, Tannen Baum" (O, Fir Tree), to the air of "Maryland, My Maryland."

In many German towns just as the bells ring to usher in Christmas, every window in every house is quickly lighted. Then the children are up bright and early, even the tiny babies, to go to six o'clock church. Often each child bears a candle to illuminate the church.

The German Kriss Kingle has one horrid habit that our jolly old St. Nick would scorn. He generally leaves in the stockings a bunch of switches in case they should be needed before his next call.

THE Serbian children have a strange custom. On Christmas Eve the father of the family goes to the wood and cuts a straight young oak, which he drags into the room where the family awaits him, saying as he does so: "Good evening and a merry Christmas!"

Then the children shout back: "May God grant both to thee and mayest thou have riches and honor."

With this they shower their father with corn and the tree is thrown on the fire to burn until Christmas morning, when it is greeted with pistol shots.

THE French children rarely have a tree. Sometimes they hang up slippers to be filled, instead of stockings, and there is great chanting of "Noel, Noel," the Christmas song.

Like the Scandinavian children, little French boys and girls never forget the birds, but instead of placing sheaves of grain on long poles, they are hung along the eaves of the houses.

THE children of Belgium on Christmas Eve are dressed in gay colors and form a procession, which marches through the streets, led by an orchestra and singing carols. Each child holds aloft either a Christchild in a manger or a candle.

AMERICAN mothers find one day of Christmas merrymaking distracting enough for their children, how would they like to live in Russia, where work is often suspended for a fortnight, while all the people keep holiday.

Even the poorest peasant has a tree and it is harvest time for beggars, for no one will refuse him anything.

In some of the country districts the boys dress as animals, and led by other boys as keepers, march through the streets headed by a band of boys making dreadful music with harsh sounding instruments. These processions go from door to door, pound until they are admitted, and all given food and drink, and two small pieces of money.

All over Scandinavia a week is given to merrymaking. Every one goes to six o'clock church on the dark Christmas morning, and in the evening every home in the land is illuminated. They have wonderful trees, around which grown people and children dance and sing. The Scandinavian child is very good to the poor on Christmas and takes gifts and food to poor families.

Bulgarian "Koleda."

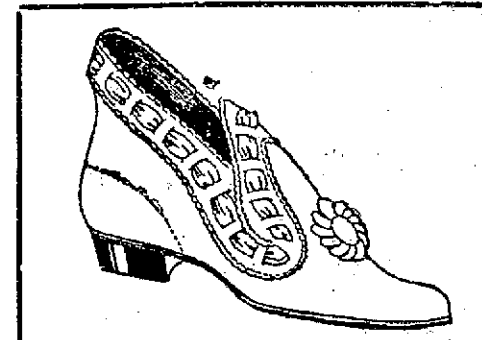

In Bulgaria "Koleda," as Christians is called, is marked with many quaint ceremonies. One is called "Koledars," the name given to a band of boys, mostly, who go about proclaiming that the season of fasting is over, and heralding a reign of feasting and merriment. Each Koleda party numbers seven—the Old Man, the Old Woman, the Crumb Picker (who collects the presents and money, while the Old Man and Old Woman play the fool), and four Singers, who carol out the Christmas songs. The attire of the Koledars is most grotesque, and their procession is joined by a huge crowd of townspeople, who take a great delight in the antics of the jesters.

CRAWL FOR LIFE IN JEWEL MINE

Over Quivering River of Mud Men Had to Make Way.

RESCUERS' HEROIC WORK.

Stretched Prone on Planks Englishmen Pushed Themselves Ahead to Save Lives of Natives Imprisoned at Kimberley.

It would be difficult to find in all the records of brave men's heroism a more stirring example than is given in the story of the great Kimberley mud fight which took place a few years ago.

As a result of it six English miners were awarded the King Edward medal and were hailed by the late king as patterns for the empire. They worked in the famous diamond mines of Kimberley, and part of their duty was the supervision of bands of natives engaged in the work, says Pearson's weekly.

One morning when a party of these men were hard at work in a corner of the mine they were startled by a dull noise outside as if a few tons of some soft substance had been hurled against the high door that separated the spot where they worked from the long tunnel leading to the shaft.

"The mud!" they cried and dropped their picks in an instant.

There was no mistaking the sound. It was the dreaded mud, the terror of diamond miners.

A mud rush means certain death to all in its track. It gives no warning. It comes along silently, like an ugly, wriggling snake, working its way swiftly, sparing nothing, covering everything.

They shrieked for help, and the Englishmen at the opening to the tunnel cried out, "Climb to the top of the wall!" which the miners promptly did. They were safe there for the time at least.

"Jump and Be Suffocated!" "Stay where you are!" the Englishmen called. "If you jump down you will be sucked in and suffocated in two minutes!"

Soon the tunnel was a tunnel no longer. It was a dull mass of rising slime that deadened the cries of the mud barred miners. It flowed for hours. Then, like some tired out torturer, it slowed down again and ceased, leaving a great black barrier as a memento of its mastery.

All manner of suggestions for rescue were made, most of them worthless, but in the end it was decided to try to reach the men, not by removing the mud, but by passing over it.

One man placed a plank upon the face of the mud and stretched himself on it. A little spade was handed to the rescuer, and he began to cut into the mud and so pull his way along down the tunnel like a man face down in a canoe pulling himself forward with a paddle.

PADDLING ON A RIVER OF MUD.

He was solely dependent now on the treacherous mud. If it failed him he would sink and be swallowed up before the eyes of his comrades.

But he worked bravely on—half inch by half inch. Another plank followed, with another man on it.

In half an hour six men were lying flat on six planks in the middle of the mud surface. If the mud took to seething and bubbling for a moment they were doomed.

Made Way by Half Inches. And the rescuers plodded on their muddy way, half inch by half inch. It was a success.

When the man on the first plank reached the wall on which the natives were huddled he called instructions to them.

"You've seen the way I've come," he said, still lying flat and face down. "Well, I'm going back the same way, but I'm leaving the planks for you to follow on."

Slowly the men on the planks slid back, leaving the wooden line behind them. Slowly the natives followed on. As each man reached the end plank he was hauled to safety by friends standing near and carried, half fainting, out of sight of the mud. The rest dragged themselves wearily on.

When the last native arrived his workmates thought he was a stranger. His hair had turned white.

Good Elderberry Wine

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.

One summer's day in the long ago, when you could meet a lightning rod outfit at every five miles on the highway, one of the craft drove into the town of Plainfield. In showing off his fine horses he ran over a hog, and the hog limped squealing away. It was nothing to make a fuss over, and none would have been made if the hog hadn't belonged to Elder Carpenter.

The elder was a solemn, severe man. He happened to be passing at the time the animal was run over, and he caught a laugh and an oath from the lips of the man of lightning. What does he do but go before a justice and swear out a warrant for malicious injury to a hog. An arrest and trial followed. Of course the lightning rod man testified on his own behalf that no malice existed. He and the elder's hog had never met before. He was driving up to the hotel in a fancy way to show off before the loafers sitting on the veranda, and the hog was unseen until too late.

At the conclusion of the trial the lightning rod man told the elder and about forty others what he thought of them, their town and their fathers and mothers before them, and there was a fight, in which he got badly banged up and driven out of town. Of course he wanted to get even. You must know that there is a fellow feeling between men who are skinning the public, and it was quite natural that the elder's victim should select a tin peddler as his instrument for carrying out his plan.

A shallow river runs through Plainfield. At that time its banks were lined for a mile up and down with elderberry bushes. Toward the last of August the clusters of berries were a sight to see. One could gather a wagonload in half a day. One day a tin peddler stopped to gather a couple of bushels. In answer to inquiries he stated that he was going to make elderberry wine after a recipe brought from China by a missionary. Your mother, if she lived in the country, used to make wine of these berries, but only in limited quantity. It isn't the beverage to make one enthuse. There was considerable talk about the tin peddler and his Chinese recipe, and an excitement followed. He returned to Plainfield with a twenty gallon keg of new wine, and wanted to form a syndicate for gathering the berries and making the wine. He had with him a letter purporting to come from a large wine house and offering him $8 a gallon, for all the elderberry wine he could ship.

Six hundred dollars was the cash capital wanted for a press and building and to pay for the gathering. The dividends for the season would be 100 per cent. There was no hayseed in the hair of the population of Plainfield. The peddler's talk sounded all right, but the people said he must show them before they invested. That was why that twenty gallon keg was placed on the tavern veranda, and the public asked to help themselves. Elder Carpenter was a temperance man right down to refusing ginger beer, but he saw no hurt in manufacturing a good brand of elderberry wine and selling it for medicinal purposes.

It was three hours before the keg was empty, and by that time it was the universal verdict that the peddler was a "goo" fellow and that the town stood ready to invest not $600, but $600,000,000, in his enterprise. They would buy 6,000 presses. They would gather 60,000 loads of berries. It was in the midst of the greatest good feeling and general hilarity that the town blacksmith said that Elder Carpenter was a hog himself for making the lightning rod man trouble over the other hog. The elder promptly replied that the smith was a born liar and started the row. The peddler made for the tavern barn and hid away, but his example was not followed. Every man got the idea that it was his duty to wade into some other man, and for an hour there was fighting up and down the streets. Fathers whanged away at sons, and brother punched brother. The three local ministers butted in as peacemakers and were early left stranded in the dust.

There were a few men in the town who did not get black eyes and bloody noses and lumpy heads, but they were the old men who had had their fun in other days and were now willing to let the younger generation go in and whoop 'er up. It was these old men who assisted the women when it came to poultices and bandages and to wheeling home those who could not walk.

Only two men knew what was in that keg, and they never told. It may have been Chinese elderberry wine according to missionary recipe, or it may have been a mixture of whisky, brandy, gin, wine and drugs. At any rate, the "feeling" lasted two whole days, and there were fights almost daily for the next fortnight. It was a month later that the lightning rod man came driving up to the tavern again. This time he ran over two hogs instead of one. Elder Carpenter was passing again, but he did not stop or turn. He simply uttered an "um" and held his way. There was the usual crowd on the veranda, but they crossed their legs, spat their tobacco juice over the railing and were mum. The town had been struck by lightning and didn't want any more of it. It didn't even want the empty keg the peddler had left behind him in his flight.

BEAT CROCODILE IN RIVER FIGHT

It Had Taken Man to Its Cave and Started Eating Him.

PIRA RODE IT TO SAFETY.

Plucky East Indian Used Its Nostrils as a Bit and Kept It Racing on the Surface of the River Till Friends Threw Him a Rope.

A remarkable tale of desperate courage under extraordinary danger as is in the world's history is related by a missionary from India in the World's Magazine. It tells of probably the only time that a man seized by a crocodile and carried to its underriver cave escaped to describe his experiences.

The man in question is a poor native named Pira, who went to the river bank near his home in the Maratha country at sunset to fill a water jar.

He was standing in the river about thigh deep when he felt something strike against one of his feet and was knocked over on his face. Before he could realize what had happened a crocodile seized one of his legs and proceeded to pull him under the water. A jet being taken in this manner for a but forty yards the creature came to the surface again, and the man was able to breathe once more.

Taken to Crocodile's Cave.

By this time he was half dead with fright and nearly drowned and must have fainted. When he recovered consciousness he found he was in what he calls "the crocodile's house," which appears to have been a sort of cave under the river bank with a smooth, muddy bottom. He afterward computed he had been unconscious for a night and a day before his senses returned to him. Now, as his brain cleared he became aware of the horrible fact that the crocodile was on his back, with its tail over his head and its mouth at his feet, where it was making a meal off one of his heels. Shortly afterward the brute left off feeding and went away.

After having been away about an hour the crocodile returned. The man lay still, and shortly afterward the brute departed, having only sniffed at its victim. Some time elapsed, and the crocodile did not return, so, thinking he was fairly safe, the man began to examine his surroundings to discover if there was any possibility of escape.

Brute Waited For Him.

Encouraged by the fact that he had been left so long alone, Pira crawled nearer to the river. This, however, was the sign for more trouble, for the crocodile, which had been all the time lying at the mouth of the cave, apparently saw and heard him, for, coming back, it precipitated him into the river with a violent blow of its tail.

While the man was struggling in the water the crocodile dived, and Pira suddenly felt it rising beneath him. This movement brought him upon its back. Finding his hands were near the crocodile's head and nerved by desperation, he felt for its nostrils and hung on to them as hard as he could. Meanwhile he made his "seat" as secure as his remaining strength permitted by twining his legs under the monster's stomach.

Rode It Like a Horse. And now comes the most exciting part of the adventure—the story of the unfortunate man's ride. Pira found that if each time the crocodile attempted to dive he pulled upon its nostrils hard enough it promptly came to the surface.

As soon as the sun rose Pira espied two men near the river bank and shouted to attract their attention.

The crocodile started at a brisker pace to go downstream. Eventually it arrived at a watering place, where four men were waiting with a long rope. By pulling the crocodile's snout in their direction Pira managed to get close enough to catch the end of the rope when it was thrown to him. Those on the bank pulled him in as fast as they could, and after a month in the hospital he was up and around, apparently as well as ever. The crocodile has not been seen in that part of the river since.

When Eden Comes and Dead Men Live

The above is the subject taken by DR. P. A. HALL, of New York, who will deliver his famous lecture in the

HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM
Monday, Dec. 17th, at 3 p. m.

Here is a rare opportunity for the people of Newark to hear a Bible lecture by a Bible expert, who combines years of extensive research with the ability to fluently impart the things he has learned.

Dr. Hall comes here under the auspices of the local class of International Bible Students' Association, who have provided for all expenses incident to this lecture, and no admission will be charged, and no collection taken.

Dr. Hall will not endeavor to make converts to some new sect, or creed, of which, all must admit, there are already too many, but his lecture is part of a world wide movement to stimulate Bible research and study.

He shows that the Bible contains the only reasonable, harmonious, consistent and philosophical answers to the questions: What is the cause of Sin? Why was it permitted? What constitutes its remedy? How will that remedy be applied? What will be the blessed result to each member of the human race? Where are the dead? Etc., Etc.

His discussion of the questions that have so long perplexed you will satisfy both your heart and head.

Don't forget the place, date and time. High School Auditorium, Sunday, Dec. 17th, 3 p. m. No admission charged—Seats free—No collections.

BOARD OF TRADE

best the report could only be incomplete.

The chairman announced that the election of directors was next in order and printed ballots were passed bearing the names of the nominees for this important position. Messrs. F. C. Bartholomew, Chas. Flory, Dr. Beard and A. H. Rickert were named as tellers and after completing the count, announced the following directors elected:

B. M. Baugher, Frank L. Beggs, Fred C. Evans, James F. Irwin, Walter C. Metz, H. L. Montgomery, Carl Norpell, E. Carey Norris, Wm. C. Wells, William Morgan and Charles Spencer. Mr. Morgan and Mr. Sprague were tied when the votes were counted and the eleventh man on the board was necessarily selected by deciding upon one of these two men.

Upon motion it was agreed to decide upon one or the other by the toss of a coin. In the tossup, Mr. Morgan won out and was declared duly elected as member of the directorate.

Mr. Morgan is a member of the well known firm of Tenny & Morgan, grain and wool merchants. He is a member of one of the city's labor unions and it was with much pleasure that the fact is noted that the union labor organizations of the city are represented upon the directorate of the city's foremost organization for "Boosting Newark."

Although the name of Mr. Spencer, president of the board for the past two years, did not appear on the ballot, he was elected. He also solved the nominating committee from being responsible for the omission of his name by saying that he had left it off the list himself, it being his desire to retire from the board and permit others more competent to give the board the benefit of their talents.

The counting of the ballots consumed much time and during the half hour the tellers were at work upon the count, the chairman, Mr. Smith, called upon a number of the members for short talks.

E. T. Rugs, of the Ruggs Hatter Works, was called upon to explain how his firm came to branch out into the manufacture of auto tires. Mr. Rugs explained that about a year ago, a relative of one of the employees of the factory, in visiting this institution, remarked that much of the machinery and material used were the same elements which went to make rubber auto tires. This started a train of thought which resulted in an investigation and a determination on the part of the company to venture into the auto tire game. He said the factory was now making about ten tires a day and that other equipment and material had been ordered and that the firm expected to expand the department as rapidly as possible. He explained that the tires sold at the same price as the standard makes now on the market and went with each tire. A number of tires turned out from this newest Newark industry were on exhibition in the dining room.

Superintendent J. F. Irwin, in re-locate here. He stated that there sponse to the chairman's call for was no doubt the action was illegal remarks, urged the board members and unconstitutional, but that the to exert their influence with the city bond issue carried when put up to a council to grant the board's request vote of the people and that the in- for the possession of the gas works dustry was secured. He declared that this was the nucleus of New-York property. Mr. Irwin explained that his com-ark's industrial life which continued pany, the B. & O. railroad, was con- to grow from that time on. W. L. Prout, in a pleasant talk of the work of other Boards of Trade, declared that it was his opinion that to a large degree the success of the recent organizations was the result of the employment of a paid secretary, whose sole duties were to look after the interests of the business men's organization.

At this juncture, President Spencer announced that Daniel Thomas, one of the oldest members, had sent $5 to the meeting for his membership fee for 1912. Mr. Thomas is 78 years old and the inclement weather made it impossible for him to be present. However, his substantial approval of the work done in the past and proposed for the future showed where he stands on the question of "Greater Newark."

Supt. Wilson Hawkins, in a happy vein, addressed the members and after relating a story or two, declared that Newark was not asleep. He said that success did not come by avoiding difficulties but by overcoming them. In closing his talk he declared that he did not care for the disgraces of the past, but lived for the glories of the future.

Frank L. Beggs took up one of the thoughts advanced by Superintendent Hawkins in his address, "Loyalty," and declared that that should be the foremost thought in the minds of those who wished for a "Greater Newark." He declared that he was satisfied with the great progress made by the city since he came to Newark in 1895 and particularly referred to the good done in the last year.

Before the meeting adjourned, on the suggestion of President Spencer, a committee was named to draft a telegram of remembrance and good cheer to be forwarded last night to Walter Scott, a member of the organization who is now taking treatment in a hospital at Rochester, Minn.

GOOD CHEER FOR MR. SCOTT. The following is a copy of the night letter sent to Walter Scott at Rochester, Minn., in compliance with a resolution adopted unanimously before adjournment.

Committee.

Red Cross Seals

The King's Daughters sought the assistance of the Board of Trade in their efforts to sell the Red Cross Seals and Assistant Secretary Richards had a large number of the seals at the meeting. All he had were sold and double the number could have been disposed of among the members if the supply had not been exhausted.

Itching, Burning Skin Sores

Easily and Quickly Healed

Those who suffer from Itchiness, pimples or other skin eruptions know the misery. There is no need of suffering. You can easily get rid of it by a simple and inexpensive preparation known as the Five-Drop Salve. It is a carefully compounded ointment that for fifteen years has proven its value as a soothing, healing remedy for eczema, pimples, running sores, wounds, burns, salt rheum, ringworm, piles and more. A single application will usually give immediate relief. The burning, irritating inflammation quickly subsides and the sores dry and disappear.

The Best Remedy in the World for Piles. The Five-Drop Salve is now put up in 25 and 50 cent packages and sold by nearly all druggists. If it is not obtainable in your locality you can order it direct from Swenson R. O. Co., 111 E. Lake Street, Chicago, Ill., and it will be sent postpaid upon receipt of price. It is an excellent remedy for excruciating, cracked skin and scalp tumors.

MAN OF MYSTERY BADLY INJURED IN TRAIN WRECK

Marion, Ind., Dec. 15.—The engine and two coaches of a Chesapeake & Ohio passenger train were derailed though not overturned, last night near Converse, 12 miles West of Marion, while it was running at a speed of 45 miles an hour.

George A. Kimmell, of Niles, Mich., of insurance fame, and Charles Bany, a traveling salesman for a canning company of St. Henry, Ohio, were injured. Kimmell was seriously hurt and may die. Bany will recover. In addition to serious internal injuries Kimmell suffered fractures of the kneecap and a number of ribs.

Kimmell was coming to Marion to visit Fred Gephart, a local merchant, who knew Kimmell at Niles, Mich., 18 years ago, after having been at Chicago, where he had been called by Edward O'Brien, attorney for the New York Life Insurance Company, which is contesting a suit at St. Louis, that was instituted to compel the payment of $25,000 insurance because of the alleged death of Kimmell a number of years ago, when it was reported that he was murdered at Kansas City.

Kimmell had intended to testify in the trial of the suit at St. Louis in January that he is the former bank cashier of Niles, Mich., who was reported murdered 13 years ago, but as a result of the injuries he received in last night's wreck the insurance company may yet have to pay the premium on his life.

"I suffered habitually from constipation," says Kimmell, "and I had been relieved and strengthened the bowels, so that they have been regular ever since." A. E. Davis, grocer, Sulphur Springs, Tex.

NEWARK BOARD OF TRADE MAKES ANNUAL REPORT

Tells of Work Accomplished This Year, Recites Difficulty Encountered and Makes Suggestions for Coming Year---Encampment Ground Touched Upon---Newark Labor Recognized.

C. H. Spencer, president of the Board of Trade, submitted the following report at the annual meeting held Thursday night, at which eleven directors were elected and other business was transacted.

While every member of the Newark Board of Trade knows of the work undertaken and accomplished during 1911, a resume may be of interest, in that it may suggest something to the incoming board of directors. The work done may be summed up as follows:

1. The consolidation of the Newark Business Men's Association with the Board of Trade.

2. Enrollment of 650 members, the largest in the history of the organization, 363 names having been added to the roll in a seven-hour campaign conducted by twelve men.

3. Over 1300 wagon loads of rubbish taken out of the city on "Clean Up" day, for which the Board is under obligations to the Teamsters' Union and to Director of Service William Christian.

4. Publication of "Be a Booster" posters in the interest of home merchants, and information cards for visitors at the Newark hotels.

5. Contracts let for over 60 miles of good roads in Licking county.

6. Agitation for new sidewalks, resulting in more new walks being laid in Newark than in any previous year.

7. Over 300 trees planted on Arbor Day by 4000 school children.

8. Cash and merchandise premiums awarded for the prettiest flower beds planted and cared for by Newark boys and girls.

9. Entertained a legislative committee and secured passage by the legislature, through the influence of Hon. W. D. Fulton, of a bill giving Newark possession of the Ohio canal in Newark.

10. Secured passage by the legislature, through the assistance of Senators Watkins and Hays and Representative Fulton, of a bill permitting school boards to buy or lease land for children's playgrounds. The local school board has taken the initial steps towards establishing children's playgrounds.

11. Raised nearly $600 for the public library.

12. Improved the court house dome by installing nearly 600 electric lamps and provided for their maintenance for one year.

13. Work of improving the court house park started by installation of bubble fountains and improvement of the Kitzmiller memorial fountain.

14. Located the Blair Direct Drive Automobile Truck factory and assisted in the financing of the proposition, which leading business men believe has a most promising future, and which it is believed will mean much to the prosperity of the city.

15. Installed a 450-lamp electric sign through the courtesy of the Licking Light & Power Company. The sign will soon be made to read "Boast for Newark."

16. Published an edition of 10,000 "Greater Newark" books, which attracted favorable editorial comment from newspapers everywhere, and from several prominent magazines.

17. Paid $1000 to the Smith Shoe Company.

18. Sold a lot on Easy street to the city for city bars, at the solicitation of city officials.

19. Brought the Central City Castings Company to Newark with its foundry.

20. Influenced the passage of a new peddlers' and hawkers' license ordinance, raising fees and establishing more restrictions.

21. Influenced the passage by council of a new transient dealers' license, raising the fee from $5 to $10 a day, in the interest of home merchants.

22. Received numerous propositions from manufacturers seeking new locations, and carefully investigated all that seemed to be worth while.

23. Held monthly meeting (excepting in September and October) for the discussion of matters of local interest and with a view of bringing closer together the men of this city who should have a common interest in the welfare and development of the city.

These are some of the things that the Board has done in 1911. Other important matters have engaged the attention and efforts of the Board, but they are of such a nature that their relation here would be tedious and perhaps unprofitable. Suffice it to say that during the past year an earnest effort has been made to do something for Newark, and we believe that the things actually accomplished will lead the way to higher and better results during the coming year.

The Board has been handicapped in several ways:

(1) By lack of funds. (2) By failure of some people to appreciate the difficulties confronting us. (3) By adverse criticism without the suggestion of a remedy. (4) Failure of many to grant the other fellow the right of opinion different from his own.

The Board's sole revenue lies in its membership fees, and a number of members have not as yet paid their annual fee of $5. Out of this membership fund must be paid room rent, postage, printing bills, committee traveling expenses, incidentals, secretary's and assistant secretary's salaries. The last two items together amount to $100 a month, certainly not an extravagant sum. When any work was undertaken, it was therefore necessary to pass a subscription paper, as in the court house park improvement work, the publication of the booklet, award of prizes, helping the library, etc. If some means could be provided to give the Board working capital, results would be more pronounced and more easily accomplished.

This leads to the effort now at hand to acquire title to the old artificial gas property, adjoining the B. & O. passenger station. The city owns the property, but 44 years ago leased it to the artificial gas company. The lease has 56 years of life. The Board of Trade has secured the promise of surrender of this lease, providing the city will relinquish its title, otherwise the gas company will continue its hold upon the property. The property is unsightly and the city will derive nothing from it for 56 years to come, long after many of us are dead and forgotten. The Board of Trade wants this property for three reasons: (1) This property for the unsightly debris that is seen by every stranger passing through town on the trains. (2) To have the place improved. (3) To earn a little money to be used by the Board of Trade for the benefit of all Newark. The officers have an opportunity to do one of two things with this ground, either of which would bring about improved conditions and would give the Board some working capital with which to accomplish something. The law committee of the city council has recommended the passage of an ordinance offering the property at public sale, and the city council may act upon the report at the next meeting, which is scheduled for Dec. 18th. If you believe that it is to Newark's interest to remove the unsightly condition here referred to; to see a permanent improvement made upon the site and thereby place some money in the Board of Trade treasury, to be expended for the public good, please ask your councilman to support the measure.

Returning now to Handicap No. 2—Failure of people to realize that obstacles are in the way. Every day one hears, "Why doesn't the Board of Trade do so-and-so?" Instead of this and that! The answer is that the Board has done the best it knew how to do under the circumstances, and at no time has it undertaken anything or left undone anything without having the interest of the city as a whole in mind. If something was not attempted, there was good reason for it; what has been done and what has been attempted has been for the interest of the people of Newark, as the board of directors saw it.

(3) Just a word about the "knockers." It is perhaps natural to "hammer." It is always easier to tear down than to build up. It is common to attribute to another an ulterior purpose or improper motive, and it is beyond the understanding of some that any set of men can and do give their time, their money and their best efforts for the public good, unless they have an axe to grind. One man objects to the court house lighting, saying the money should have gone to the hospital or to the library. Another thinks the lighting is fine, but that the sign should have been worded differently. Some complained of Clean-Up day because we carried away rubbish that should have been taken away at private expense. Others criticize because we didn't get into the local option fight, which, as everybody should know, would have completely disrupted this organization, no matter which end of the proposition was endorsed. The Board's lease of the encampment ground is condemned by a few, when as a matter of fact the lease granted the Country Club is but temporary, and was given first for the purpose of beautifying and preserving the ancient earthworks and holding the grounds for a public park or some big enterprise that will appear later. The public is by no means excluded from the club grounds and nobody is trying to commit larceny, though an intimation to that effect has been made. The ground is all there, is being put in better condition every year, and the Board of Trade will at the right time turn it over for a public park or for any other good purpose that justifies the action. Perhaps the time is now. If so, the members of this organization may be counted on to do the square thing.

The officers of the Board of Trade are personally assailed because they do not favor a proposition to establish a Woman's Reformatory there. The encampment ground, it seems to me, is too valuable to give for what we would get in return. The Board of Trade has offered to the state two good sites, either of which should be acceptable, and when Governor Harmon and his fellow commissioners were here recently as the Board of Trade's guests, they did not ask for a donation, but asked the price of the two sites shown to them. As far as the encampment ground is concerned, the Board has acted in good faith, with good judgment. It is not favoring a few club men, as alleged, but is, through its lease, preserving the beautiful grounds for public use a little later, when the time is ripe. The Country Club is under written agreement to restore the grounds to the Board of Trade upon due notice and upon reasonable conditions stipulated in the lease.

(4) If every member of this organization and every citizen would grant his fellow members and fellow citizens the right to hold an opinion differing from his own without denouncing him for it, things would move more smoothly and action would be more effective. Take the issue now before the people. Men honestly differ on the local option question, but it seems hard for many a man holding one view to grant to the other fellow the right to differ from him. We ought to be broad enough to grant though we feel sure we are right, that there is a possibility that we may be wrong, or we ought at least to concede that the man who differs from us is honest in his convictions and therefore has a right to think and act as he feels. The quicker we get away from the place where we use harsh language toward or about those who disagree with us, the better it will be for Newark.

There seems to be among one or more labor organizations of Newark a feeling that this Board of Trade is antagonistic to their interests. Nothing could be farther from the truth. The Board recognizes the importance of labor and the rights of labor. It would be glad to have every laboring man in town become a member of this organization, attend these meetings and take part in the proceedings. Instead of opposing labor, the Board takes just the opposite position. Labor can do no good to build up Newark without the co-operation and the support of the working men. The object of this body may be stated in two words: "Boost Newark," and in order to do so, the help of every man, woman and child is needed and is solicited. This organization does not and should not represent the business man any more than it does the doctor; the manufacturer any more than it does the mechanic and the laborer, but it represents them all. I believe that labor should have a representative upon the board of directors in order that the Board of Trade may be in closer touch with the working men of Newark and in order that the working men, through their representative, may know just what this body stands for and opposes. There seems to me to be many reasons why labor should thus be recognized and honored, and I respectfully suggest that Wm. M. Morgan be nominated and elected one of the directors for the year 1912.

The following suggestions are offered to the incoming Board of Directors:

(1) Help to raise the hospital building fund.

(2) Finish the court house parl improvement.

(3) Endeavor to have the city council take care of the park trees and urge the county commissioner to place better lighting standards at the four approaches to the court house.

(4) Improve the old canal bed.

(5) Help with the Subway.

(6) Lay plans for a convention hall. By organizing a stock company this project can be put through and made to yield a small dividend upon the investment.

(7) Start something that will mean new street paving in the business section and keep up the agitation for more new sidewalks.

(8) Confer with the city authorities and try to have the appropriation for street cleaning increased, so that the business section of the city at least, may be cleaned more often.

(9) Endeavor to have enforced the ordinance prohibiting the deposit of sweepings, trash, papers and advertising bills in the streets.

(10) Follow up the "Greater Newark" book with a small booklet that can be enclosed in a 6 3/4 envelope with business correspondence.

(11) Establish an employment bureau and provide, in connection with it, a place where working men and mechanics can gather for information and pleasure.

(12) Encourage the purchase of Newark made goods, the buying in Newark stores, and the employment of local workmen and mechanics.

(13) Consider a "Newark Made Goods" Exposition, which will increase pride in local institutions, widely advertise the city and be helpful to local business men.

(14) Go after a Union depot and try to bring the T. & O. C. Railway into Newark.

The present Board does not want to dictate to the new what shall or shall not be done, but the suggestions are offered for what they may be worth.

The present Board has made an honest effort. The directors have worked unselfishly and diligently. The work has not been all that I might have been, but the directors are all busy men who, having personal business to attend to, can not devote their entire time to public-spirited effort. They have, however, done a year's work and are not ashamed of the results. More people in Newark today are interested in municipal affairs than ever before, and the lines along which the Board in 1911 has worked, we believe, are in a measure responsible for this fact. The trend is toward a better city, a bigger town, a "Greater Newark." This year we have 650 members. Newark, with its 29,000 people, should have a Board of Trade of 1000 at least, and with an organization of 1000 men whose aim is to build up the town from every angle, the results in 1912 should make the work accomplished this year look small indeed. When the people as a whole learn the objects of this organization, and come to know that it is non-partisan and non-sectarian, that its one aim is Newark's advancement along every line, it will not be difficult to get 2000 members and with such a force lined up as Newark boosters, nothing on earth could stop us.

YOUR GRAY HAIRS WILL QUICKLY VANISH

A feeling of sadness accompanies the discovery of the first gray hairs, which, unfortunately, are looked upon as heralds of advancing age. Gray hairs, however, are not always an indication of advancing age, for many people have gray hairs quite early in life. Of course, it is unnatural, and indicates that there is something wrong with the individual, and that Nature needs assistance in correcting the trouble. The same is true of hair that is constantly falling out and becoming thinner every day. If everything is right with Nature, the hair, even in comparatively elderly people, should be long, thick and glossy, without even a streak of gray.

The ideal assistant to Nature in restoring and preserving the hair is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a clean and wholesome dressing for daily use. It not only removes dandruff, but strengthens weak, thin and falling hair and promotes its growth. A few applications will restore faded or gray hair to its natural color.

Get a bottle today, and let it do for you what it has done for thousands of others. This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

BRIDE REFUSED TO BUY LICENSE FOR MARRIAGE TO POTOK

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 15.—"Surely you don't expect me to pay for our marriage license," said Miss Mary Ford, an attractive young woman, to Peter J. Potok, her intended husband, in the St. Joseph county clerk's office. "If you loved me," she continued, "you would have money for that."

"But $1.50 is all I have," rejoined Potok, turning crimson. "and the clerk says the license will cost $2."

The young man tried to persuade the girl to pay, but she refused. Instead, she became very indignant and berated him in no uncertain terms. Potok was finally convinced he girl was in earnest, and they left the office to obtain more money. They have not been back.

His Fascination for Pretty Actress Was Banker's Undoing

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 15.—"Love for Fanny Hudson, an actress, is said to have brought about the troubles of Albert Bernard Windt, a young banker, now under arrest in San Fernando, Philippine Islands."

Windt, who dodged the police of this country and the United States, secret service for three years, will be brought back on an army transport to answer the charge of absconding with $20,000 belonging to the International Banking company, of Leechburg, Pa.

Windt showered the young actress with attentions and, according to secret service men, he robbed the bank depositors so that he could shine more brightly financially. He is now serving a six months' imprisonment in the Philippines for passing bogus checks.

BOY CONFESSES TO ROBBERY OF OHIO
FARMER'S HOME

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 15.—John A. Jasper, 19 years old, surrendered to the police yesterday and confessed that he and a companion robbed the farm house of Henry C. Rhoads, near West Point, Ohio, where he had formerly been employed. He was omitted to jail here, pending an investigation. In a solid locked cell, he gave to the police a full story of what he said struck him in the leg when he was escaping with the loot.

DON'T BE THIN

No Need of Being Scrawny, Weak and Emaciated.

In these days of physical culture and health foods, one would hardly expect to see any thin, weak, emaciated people, but in spite of all this, nearly every person you meet is thin and scrawny.

Samose has valuable flesh-forming and tissue building properties, and when it is assimilated with the food, it causes the flesh-making elements to be retained and the weight is naturally increased.

W. A. Eiman & Son, the popular druggists, have sold in the last few weeks a great many packages of Samose every one with their personal guarantee to refund the money if it did not give satisfaction, and has had but one person ask for the money back. Just think of it! Only one who used Samose found that it failed to give a satisfactory increase in flesh and plumpness! You run no risk whatever in buying Samose. If you are not perfectly satisfied with the results, W. A. Eiman & Son will return your money.

The leading hotels use Crisco because—

With it they prepare the food in half the time.

Foods fried in Crisco absorb less of it, and in consequence, retain flavors unimpaired.

Foods cooked in Crisco are uniform in color, and without black specks.

It stands at a much higher temperature—without burning or smoking. It does not absorb odors—saves endless annoyances.

Hotels prepare food in such large quantities that they especially are able to appreciate the advantages of Crisco. Chefs who have once cooked with Crisco prefer it to ordinary cooking fats.

The Angel Doctor's Christmas

By Carl Jenkins

OPPOSITE each other in the cozy morning room sat a young woman and a girl of twelve.

"Now, Cousin Hilda," said the latter, as she smoothed down her dress and settled herself in her chair, "I'm going to begin at the beginning and tell you all about it, and then we are to go out and buy a Santa Claus present for him."

"Yes, Polly," answered the young woman.

"You had gone to Europe. You had just packed up and skated as if the police were after you. Mother said she didn't believe you wanted to go the least little bit, but that your mother made you."

"Don't talk nonsense, Polly."

"Well, you skated anyhow."

"And don't talk slang."

"Skated isn't slang. It means that you just glided off like a streak of lightning. You had skated, and I was lonesome, and I was out walking with poor Flora, when a boy came along with a big dog. He was tough. So was his dog. He shouted at me:

"Take care of your dog!"

"Why?" I answered.

"Cause my dog will chew him up!"

"I was just going to tell him that if his dog did there would be trouble in the camp, when it sprang upon poor Flora and ended her life. I can't describe my feelings as I saw her breathing her last."

"Well, don't try to—not if there's any slang in it."

"Why, Hilda, I haven't said a slang word. You know how very, very particular mother is with me. No, I can't describe my feelings but I remember that I went for that boy, tooth and toe-nail. I hit and scratched and kicked and bit, and I was doing him up when—"

"Polly Sewell!" exclaimed Miss Hilda in horror.

"Now what's happened?" Polly asked. "I told it to papa just this way, and he patted me on the shoulder and called me good girl. As I was saying, I was putting in my best ticks when along came a taxi with a fat woman in it. Maybe she was eloping, and maybe she only wanted to get home to lunch. Maybe the chauffeur yelled 'Hi!' at me, and maybe he just wanted to kill another girl. However it was, he ran me down. Yes, cousin, I was knocked out."

"You mean you lost consciousness?"

"Gracious, but how ignorant you are for a girl of twenty! Nobody can be knocked out without losing their consciousness. That's the whole idea of it. Yes, I was knocked out and counted out, and when I came to I was in the hospital with three broken ribs. That fat woman must have weighed a ton. It was hours and hours before I came to, and then—oh, then—"

"Then what?"

"Then there was the loveliest angel standing beside my cot in the hospital you ever saw. Nobody knew who I was, and they had rung for the ambulance and taken me to the hospital. And, oh, that angel, cousin—that angel!"

"You mean a nurse, of course."

"I don't. I mean a man—a doctor. He had hold of my hand. He was looking down at me with his sad, sad eyes. I saw at once that he had some great sorrow on his mind. Yes, he had the finest eyes—and curly hair, and a handsome nose, and when he spoke to me there was pathos in his voice. And the fun of the whole thing was that I knew him at once, while he didn't know me from a side of sole-leather. Oh, you are interested, are you?"

"Polly, I was just thinking how frightened you must have been to find yourself in a hospital," said the blushing Hilda.

"Oh, I see! Well, save your sympathy. A hospital with an angel doctor to fix up your broken ribs isn't a half bad place. In fact, I liked it so well that I lied to stay there."

"Polly Sewell!"

"I sure did. They had gone through my outfit without finding my address and had concluded I was a stranger in the town. When I opened my eyes and sort of winked at the angel—"

"Polly, that's surely slang!"

"No it isn't. I told papa about it, and he said things had come to a pretty pass if a girl with three broken ribs couldn't wink at the angel doctor who has set them. When I had opened my eyes and winked the doctor said:

"Little girl, what is your name?"

"It's Hannah Jones."

"And where do you live?"

"At far-off Blackberry Corners."

"Polly, you ought to have been sent to jail!" was the emphatic comment.

"But I had my little scheme to work, you see. Papa hunted for five days before he found me, and then it was ten more before the angel would let him take me home. Cousin Hilda, a girl who is the real thing can accomplish a heap in fifteen days, even if she has broken ribs. I wanted to have a chat with that angel on outside matters, and I had three or four of them. You ought to have seen his face when I told him where I had seen him before and asked if he didn't remember me."

"But—but I don't—don't—" protested Hilda in a puzzled way.

"But you will in just a minute. I told him I had seen him in this very house! Now, then!"

"Polly, it wasn't—"

"Oh, it wasn't eh? Want to bet a $20 hat it wasn't? Of course it was, and I was so mad at you that it set my broken ribs back all of three days. Dr. Charles Mortimer, and because he isn't rich your mother is down on him and she skated you out to Europe. Oh, I got on to the racket right away."

"Polly Sewell, you are a wicked girl! You use slang, and you fib to the doctor, and you meddle with other people's affairs, and—"

"And such dark eyes—and such a deep, pathetic voice! And we had several confidential chats together—very confidential. We didn't even let a trained nurse come within ten feet of us. Hilda, you don't know how confidential a girl becomes when three of her ribs are broken and she is afraid to draw long breaths!"

"And—and you talked about—me?"

"We did. I told him just what I thought of your mother, and I told him I was going to have a plain talk with you, and I told him—"

"Polly Sewell, I'll never speak to you again!" declared Miss Hilda as she rose and tried to look very angry.

"You'll have to, as we are going down town right away to buy Christmas presents for your Sunday school kids. I want you to help me pick out something for our angel-doctor."

"You—you can do that by yourself."

"But you can tell me whether the diamonds are all O. K. or not. No rhinestones for the angel with the deep, dark eyes. Dear me, while I can't help but grieve about poor Flora's death, I almost wish I could have three ribs broken on the other side!"

It was three days before Christmas, and the streets were crowded and the stores packed like a ward caucus. It was crowd and jam and push. The cousins had to link hands to prevent separation. They had visited two or three stores and were still in the jam when Polly suddenly disengaged her hand and whispered:

"Watch my hike!"

And ten seconds later she was lost in the crowd, and the angel-doctor and Miss Hilda Fitch stood face to face. They were penned in. They had to lean against a show-case and hold their own. They had to talk and say things, and by and by the angel-doctor had to help select the presents for the Sunday school children and to help Miss Hilda through the jam to a taxi, and—and—

"Say, now," observed the twelve-year-old Polly when she made a cull three days later on her cousin, "I don't claim to know everything, but I do know when to—to hike!"

And she wasn't even asked what "hike" meant!

Holly and Mistletoe.

In the language of flowers holly signifies foresight, and mistletoe means "I have surmounted all difficulties."

Holly, as everyone knows, is the symbol or sign of Christmas, but the custom of using it is older than Christianity. The Romans sent friendly greetings and sprigs of holly to one another during their winter festival. For this reason, perhaps, it was taken to stand for the spirit of love and good-will.

Mustn't Spin at Christmastide.

In North Germany, where the practical yet poetic spinning wheel still hums in the cottages, one must not spin during the twelve nights of Christmas lest he or she walk after death. If the spinning is done after sunset on Saturday, mice will eat the work. If one wishes to have money and good luck all the year, one should not fall to eat herring on New Year's Day.

JEWETT COMPANY WERE LOW BIDDERS ON A BIG CALIFORNIA CAR CONTRACT

The following news item from the San Francisco Examiner relates to the letting of a street car contract, calling for the erection of 43 cars, the Jewett Car Company of this city being the lowest bidder. Their next competitor was a San Francisco concern and for that reason the Jewett bid was rejected, although it was $50,000 less than the other. According to the California paper's view there was no necessity to invite competition after the San Francisco firm put in their bid. There was no chance for any other firm. It is hardly necessary to state that eastern firms will not care to compete for California contracts if they learn that there will be any local bidders, for it seems to be the spirit of California officials to "take care" of home interest first. The Examiner's article follows:

"By a vote of two to one the Board of Public Works yesterday awarded the contract for furnishing forty-three cars for the Geary Street Municipal Railway to the W. L. Holman Company, the only local bidder.

President Casey, who cast the opposition vote, gave notice to everybody concerned that he would not sign the contract.

This determination on his part will make it necessary for the Holman Company to go to court for a writ of mandate compelling him to do so, since the law requires that three members of the board must sign contracts to make them legal.

The Holman Company was not the lowest bidder, its demand being $50,000 in excess of that of the Jewett Car Company of Newark, Ohio.

A strong fight was made in its favor by representatives of the Home Industry League and others. Mayor McCarthy, who had previously spoken in the company's behalf did so again yesterday, as did also D. J. Alberga of the Home Industry League. The Mayor urged that the contract should be awarded to the home company so that the work might serve for years as a monument to California craftsmen and companies.

Supervisor R. J. Loughery of the Public Utilities Committee, present by invitation of the board, took up the mayor's last statement.

"You should be careful," he said "that by your action here today you do not create another monument—one which outsiders will say commemorates California unfairness. The Jewett people bid in good faith, their offer is the lowest and it is difficult to see how you can escape giving them the contract with any regard for justice and the law."

Loughery also suggested that the present is a particularly bad time for anything which might seem to indicate narrow mindedness on the part of California, since the eyes of the whole country are centered on the State in connection with the Panama Pacific Exposition enterprise.

"You don't want that New York committee," he said, "now in the city to get any wrong ideas of the California spirit of fair play."

Daniel Drew of Richmond advocated giving the contract to the Jewett Company on the ground that its bid was the lowest and because the city wanted the cars without any further delay.

Mayor McCarthy and Alberga of the Home Industry League would not be discouraged by any such suggestions and it was early seen that Commissioners Laumeister and Newsom were with them. President Casey finally brought the discussion to a vote on the resolution already prepared awarding the contract to the Jewett Company.

Both Laumeister and Newsom voted aye, explaining that they considered the difference between the two bids under consideration not sufficient to justify giving the work away from California. They also questioned the regularity of the Jewett bid in some particulars. Then Casey's name was called.

"Well," said the chairman. "I vote no on this motion and I also give notice to all concerned that I will not sign the contract. We will now adjourn."

The price asked by the Holman Company for the forty-three cars is $337,231, while the Jewett bid is $287,182 or $50,049 less."

CYCLIST RISKS LIFE

New York—Jim Zanora, one of the best known trick bicycle riders in the United States, risks his life at every public appearance and knows how necessary it is for him to have a steady nerve and unflinching strength. The slightest weakness might cost him his life or injure him severely and this letter from him is of great interest on that account. He says: "I do trick bicycle riding as a profession and work hard, and so I was always tired and weak. I got so I had no strength and felt all run down, but since using three bottles of Vinol I feel fine again. I have recommended Vinol to others and they too are using it with good results. Your strength is just as valuable to you and we want to say to you that there is nothing so good as Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy without oil, for making weak and wornout people robust, rugged and well. It is good for children and old people too, and we give your money back unless Vinol does all we claim. F. D. Hall, druggist, Newark, O.

BROWNSVILLE

The Brownsville Banner Grange gave an open meeting Friday evening, December 8, and a very enjoyable time was had. Rev. Mr. Allen and Rev. Mr. McClelland each gave a talk and some fine music by the local orchestra was rendered. In connection a corn show was given and premiums awarded to the following persons: First, Oscar Mack; second, John Mac; third, William McMullen. First premium on apples: Mrs. Maggie Cooper; second, Mrs. Katherine Hamilton. First on turnips: Frank Kreager; second, Thomas Hamilton.

Communion services were held at the Presbyterian church Sunday last. The first service was on Thursday evening and continued until Sabbath evening, Rev. Mr. McClelland conducting the services. Preaching by the Rev. Mr. Smith at the M. E. church next Sunday at 10:30 o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend.

BUY IT IN NEWARK.

There's more than one reason why you should buy your Christmas presents in Newark—no good reason why you should not do so.

Remember the Board of Trade's card published a few months ago saying: "Buy in Newark and whenever possible purchase Newark made goods. Keep the money circulating here at home. When you spend money here in Newark it shouts, 'THU we meet again.' When you send or take money to another city it sighs 'Farewell, forever.'"

If you should be so foolish as to buy goods in Columbus or some other city what are you going to do if they don't suit you after you get them home? Even if the merchant were willing to make satisfactory exchanges with strangers you would be put to great inconvenience in getting it made right.

Spend your money here in Newark and you will have a far better chance of seeing your money again. Take it away and it is good-bye for all time.

It is just as much the pride and the business of Newark merchants to satisfy a customer as to please him in the first place. It will save you money to buy at home and you will have the satisfaction also of helping to make Newark boom, of helping in the great work of making a "Greater Newark."

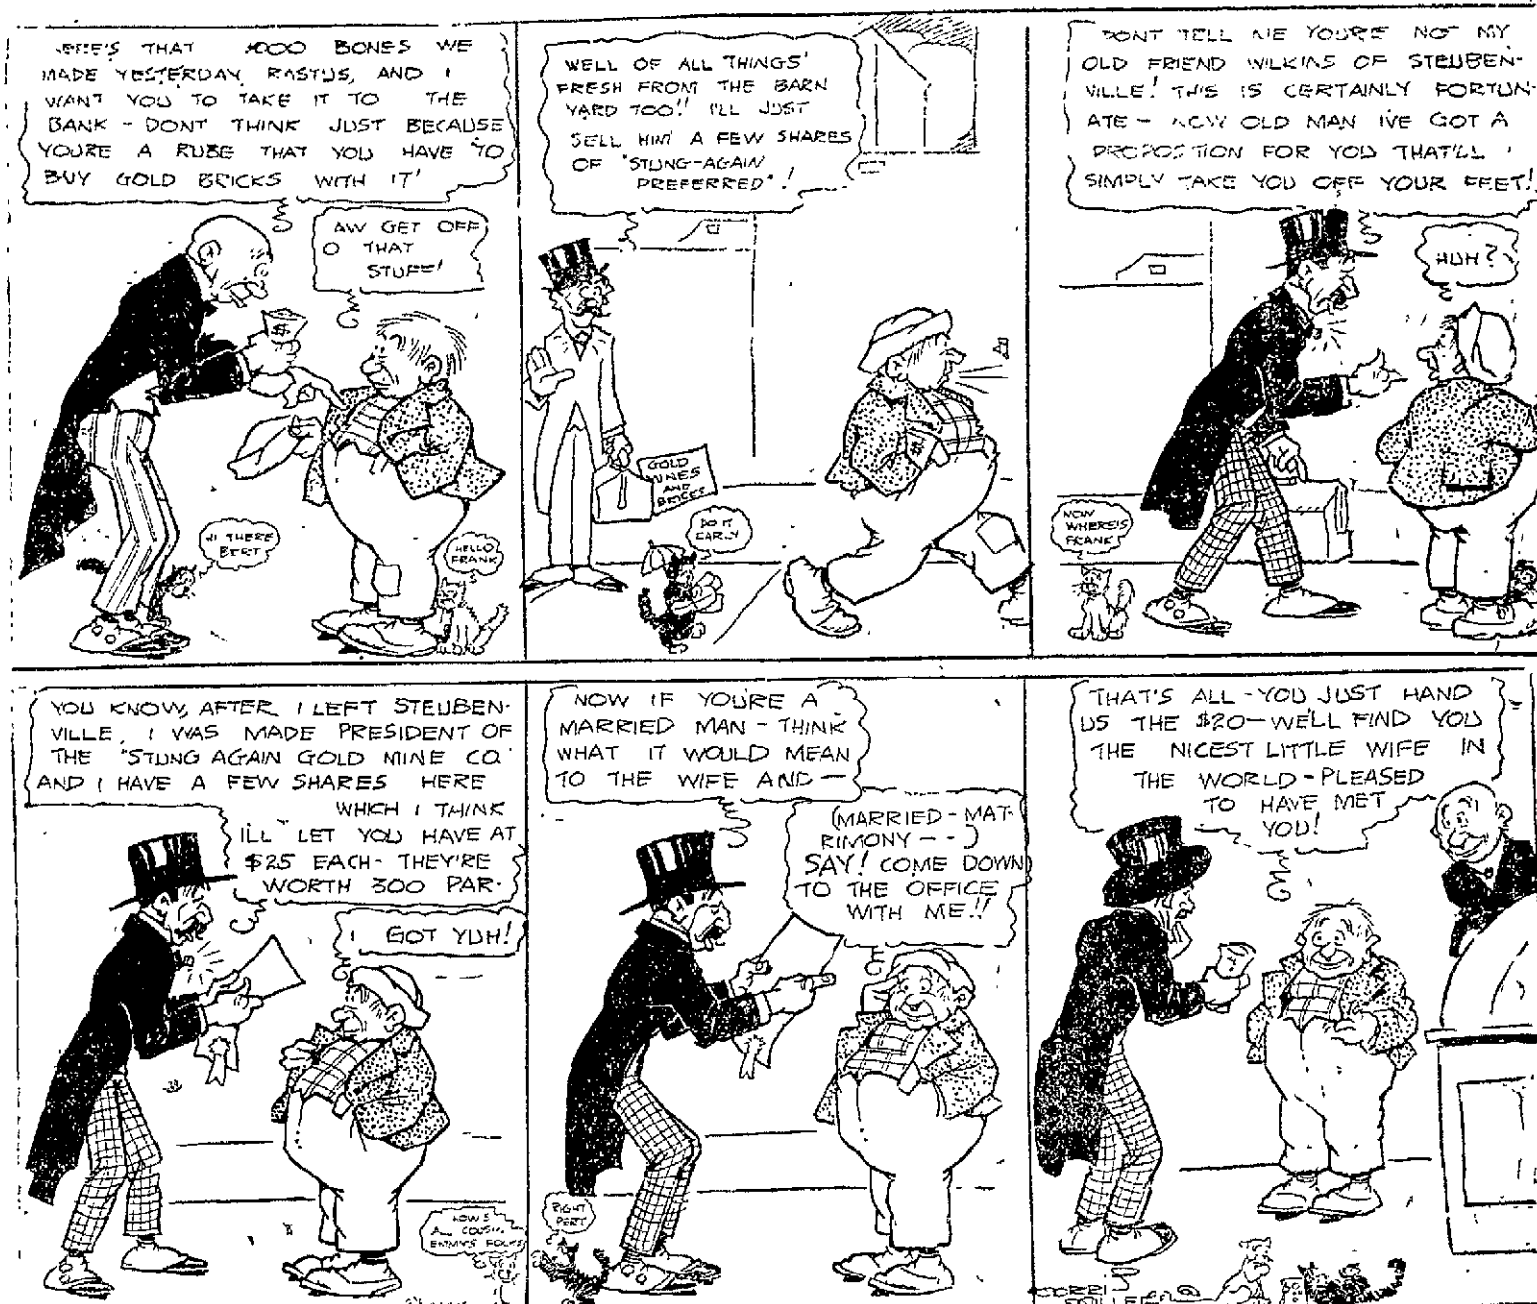

If you live here, shop here. Be loyal to your home town. The stores are full of splendid Christmas goods and the prices are right.

It stands to reason that the merchants of Newark can buy as advantageously as men in any city and it stands to reason that they CAN AND DO sell cheaper than the large city dealer whose expenses are heavier.

Buy in Newark and help to make this a successful Christmas season. Every dollar you spend here means full value to you and besides the great satisfaction of knowing that you are helping to make Newark greater.

FARMER INSTITUTE SEASON HAS BEGUN

The world isn't flat; the moon isn't cheese, and Satan is not adorned with a tail. Agriculture is having the pains of a new birth. Old ways and old notions were good in their day. There is a new time, a new man, a new woman, a new machine, and a new way to bless the twentieth century. Farmers who make no attempt to attend some kind of an agricultural meeting have either ripened and gone to seed, or graduated in their business. Either disease excites the neighbors and causes remarks. Science and brain, experience and experiment, education and conversation, will help to make the dirt more productive and more profitable. The Institute is the Forum of the Farmer. He can thresh out, husk out, dig out and find out what other farmers are thinking and doing, and make good wages at the same time. It's a poor sign to see a poor farmer trying to make forty cents by staying away from a farmer institute. As a rule the best farmers come early, warm a front seat and ask questions. Ohio agriculture is out of the cradle, and eating at the first table. The farmer is getting closer to business methods. Some can make a close guess on cost of producing a bushel of grain or market animal. Farmers are now doing things a purpose. Guess work and chances are decreasing. Seed is tested. Good drainage insures better results. Teachers and preachers, gardeners and deep plowing, drainage and saas are all willing to head the procession and keep step to the farmer's music.

This year a number of lady speakers will lecture at institutes. At many places there will be a fruit and orchard expert with a fine exhibit, instructive to all. Institute presidents have promised to begin meetings on time and run it strictly as a business matter. The institute costs good money. It is wastefulness and extravagance to come in late, or not to begin on time. Special crop farming is worth thinking about. You get into a rut and want to talk only of things and crops you and grandfather raised. Why not listen and encourage the state speakers to drill new ideas into you?

Institutes will give attention to real work. Music and entertainment will not be overdone. State speakers will not try to be popular at the expense of thorough work. The institute is cold-blooded business. State speakers will make good if given attention and a little applause. Try it. Urge the hired man and young folks to come. It's a good investment. Go yourself and get others to go. Get upstairs in your business and make farming the best occupation on earth. Try it.

By the time congress knocks the truss down with a big heavy club, maybe they will be good.

Diamonds Are No Attraction to Thief Who Pilfered Eggs

Cleveland, O., Dec. 15.—Diamonds gleamed enticingly from store windows, sales yawned invitingly, a gentleman from Berea displayed his gold watch hospitably.

But for Oliver McElhane, of 606 Woodland avenue, they had no allurements. His eyes were on bigger game. William Thomas, of 12011 Union avenue, had put down a basket McElhane, picked it up and fled. The basket contained two dozen fresh eggs and two pounds of butter.

McElhane pleaded guilty Thursday in police court and was given $10 and costs.

SHERRA D PIGS

DISPLAY MUCH INTELLIGENCE

J. E. Sherrard, a well known resident of Newark, who lives in the Cherry Valley, near the home of Richard Shide, witnessed a remarkable manifestation of animal intelligence several days ago. Mr. Sherrard is the owner of about a dozen small pigs, and on Wednesday of this week, his attention was attracted by an unusual commotion among them. Going to the pen he glanced around and what he saw was a plenty. One of the little porkers was fastened in the trough while two other small pigs, one at the head and the other at the tail were endeavoring to extricate him. Mr. Sherrard watched the proceedings for several moments, wondering what held the pig in the trough. (Going into the pen he endeavored to lift the imprisoned animal out when he discovered that it was held by a nail which had forced its way into the stomach of the pig to its full length. When he finally released it the other little piglets were so tickled that they manifested their delight by crowding around the rescuer and rubbing their heads against his legs. Mr. Sherrard, however, was compelled to kill the pig, as it was too badly injured to live.

STATE TO HAVE AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITION

For the first time in Ohio's history, the state is to put on the road a general exhibition car calculated to do home missionary work in the state and show Ohioans what the agricultural possibilities of the state are. Several trains have been run, but these have made displays along special lines.

The car, which will leave Columbus January 2, will be rolled over the entire state and will not return to Columbus until the middle of spring. In municipalities of appreciable size, lectures will be given in the evening. Stereopticon views will be held to draw crowds and add realism to the talks of the lecturers.

CHRISTMAS PUDDING.

(A Recipe)

Take some human nature—as you find it.

The commonest variety will do—

Put a little graciousness behind it.

Add a lump of charity—or two.

Squeeze in just a drop of moderation.

Half as much frugality—or less.

Add some very fine consideration.

Strain off all of poverty's distress.

Pour some milk of human kindness in it.

Put in all the happiness you can.

Stir it up with laughter every minute.

Season with good will toward every man.

Set it on the fire of heart's affection.

Leave it till the jolly-bubbles rise.

Sprinkle it with kisses—for conffection.

Sweeten with a look from loving eyes.

Flavor it with children's merry chatter.

Frost it with the snow of wintry delis.

Place it on a holly-garnished platter.

And serve it with the song of Christmas bells.

WHEAT CONDITION NOT ENCOURAGING TO THE FARMERS

The condition of wheat is far from being satisfactory or encouraging according to the last crop report of the state board of agriculture. The plant is now very generally weak and thin on the ground and in poor condition for going into winter. While there are some fairly bright and healthy looking fields of wheat, a great many are still bare and have no prospect of life. In some places the Hessian fly has damaged the growing crop four per cent. The prospects for the 1912 wheat harvest is anything but encouraging.

BEAUTY TRUTHS

Pimples, Sallowness, Blisters, and Dull Eyes Caused by Stomach.

Beauty is only skin deep, but that is deep enough to satisfy most women, also men.

In order to keep the skin in a clear, clean, healthy condition, the stomach must supply the blood plenty of nutrition. As long as the stomach is out of order and the blood lacks proper nourishment, the skin will be affected.

If you want a perfect skin that you will be proud of, take a week's treatment of MI-O-NA stomach tablets.

Get a fifty cent box today, and if you are not satisfied after a week's treatment, you can have your money back.

For any stomach ailment MI-O-NA is guaranteed. It gives almost instant relief and permanently cures. Large box 50 cents, at Evans' Drug Store and druggists everywhere.

ADDRESSES DELIVERED BEFORE THE AMERICAN CIVIC ASSOCIATION TODAY

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Dec. 15.—"Don't swat the fly, swat the man who permits the fly to breed," was the slogan to meet the contention of people who claim the house, or typhoid, fly is a beneficent scavenger and which Prof. C. F. Hodge of Clark University, Worcester, Mass., suggested to the delegates at the American Civic Association's convention here today.

Prof. Hodge summarized the results accomplished since the association last year adopted plans for its campaign to exterminate the house fly. He described the "fly swatting contests" inaugurated in Worcester and Baltimore last summer and used them to illustrate the most active phase of the work of the past year. In Baltimore, he said, the Woman's Civic League paid ten cents a quart for flies and it was estimated 1,000 quarts were slain. Outlining the campaign which must be followed next summer, Prof. Hodge said:

"To completely free the city of flies is the purpose and the more that are caught, and the quicker, the better. But the proposition must be reversed. To place a premium on filthy conditions and even may stimulate fly breeding. The civic fly campaigns of the future will focus all of these prize and honor on the complete absence of flies. Dividing a city into equal districts instead of crowning him winner who catches the most, he will win who has his district cleaned first, that is, who first can catch none. We can then rejoice in clean, wholesome homes, free from danger of filth-disease infection; clean, wholesome stores and market places; a time-old, weary fight ended and the most deadly enemy of mankind vanquished at last. This is now a perfectly possible consummation if every household will co-operate. It could all be done by any city at less expense and labor and time than is now required in extra window cleaning and house cleaning, due to the presence of the filthy pests."

"The details must naturally be worked out by each civic center. In a group of intelligent country homes, the unit will be the single home and some good-natured rivalry may be indulged in to see which shall be flyless first. In a town or city the block is the natural civic unit. Some one person living in the block, should assume or be elected to the responsibility and should see that effective measures are in operation at every home. If the campaign is begun with the opening of spring, and if the breeding places of mosquitoes also have been attended to the time will have passed when we need screens in our windows."

Washington, Dec. 15.—Campaigns against the fly until the pestiferous insect is exterminated, was recommended in a report made today by Edward Hatch, Jr., of New York, chairman of the "fly-fighting" committee, to the American Civic Association, in convention here. Mr. Hatch told of the progress made in waging war on the fly as a breeder and spreader of disease.

"When the chairman of this committee, a few years ago, before the committee itself had been formed, began to acquaint the general public with the danger of the fly pest," said Mr. Hatch, "his efforts excited more humorous comment than serious attention. All that is changed now, and a good part of the change has been wrought within the past twelve months."

"Since the last annual conference on the fly pest, letters have poured in upon the committee from all quarters of the country, asking for advice on the best methods of exterminating the house fly. The committee caused to be printed and circulated upwards of 200,000 pieces of 'literature', which served as ammunition in innumerable fly-swatting campaigns. In a number of cities, school children competed for cash prizes for compositions which would best describe the fly's vicious career. In many cities newspapers organized 'Swat the Fly' contests for considerable cash prizes. The numbers scored by the winners ran into the hundreds of thousands, and the count, (so many flies to the quart) in Baltimore alone reached 15,000,000. Washington boys and girls caught and killed only 6,388,000; but Washington can't boast of a really bumper crop of flies."

"With a view to summing up the season's work—taking a fly census as it were—the committee recently wrote to the Health Commissioners of the different states. From the replies, it appears Kansas is in the van of the fly-fighting army. The Indiana Board of Health distributed the text of the anti-fly ordinance and twelve cities and seventeen towns adopted it. Dakota 'reported a marked decrease in the fly population. Much ingenuity has been shown by some of the state boards in designing anti-fly posters.' In concluding Mr. Hatch said that the committee, while pleased with the results, realized that the war against the fly was to be a long one. 'Swat the fly' campaigns help," he said, "but what we need most is to arouse such a conscientiousness of our duty to ourselves and to others, that we will first swat our own flies by depriving them of breeding and feeding places, and then compel our neighbors to do likewise—compel them by force of public opinion and of the law as represented by that beneficent Czar, the Health officer. He is on our side, and with the support which he is sure to receive from the people educated by our two years' campaign, eventually will be able to make house flies infrequent, if not absolutely extinct."

livered by Minneapolis from the "garden club campaign" carried on there during the past season for the purpose of having all the city's vacant lots turned into flower and vegetable beds, according to Leroy J. Boughner of Minneapolis, who told the American Civic Association in convention here today of the "vacant lot garden" work done in his home city.

It was a matter of civic pride, not an economic motive, which early last spring started the garden idea, Mr. Boughner explained. A civic celebration was to be held early in July, he said, "so we decided to have gardens to beautify the city for its hundred thousand visitors." The fact that there were 5,000 acres of vacant lots in the city, "sufficient to supply the entire state with vegetables," was not enough appeal to get the citizens of Minneapolis interested; but the appeal to their civic pride caused them to plant 2,000,000 square feet to vegetables and 250,000 to flowers, said the speaker.

Mr. Boughner held Minneapolis up as a model for other cities, pointing out in detail how the vacant lots there had been transformed into bowers of flowers and vegetable beauty, and called attention to some of the mistakes which had been made. So successful was this year's Garden club campaign, however, that it will be continued with renewed vigor, Mr. Boughner declared during the coming year.

"The garden is a bit of land where plants and people grow and love each other," said the speaker in describing the benefits of the work. First and foremost he placed the fact that "the use of vacant lots had satisfied the farm craze, had taught more than 700 men and women whether he desired to go back to the land. How better could a man find out that upon the small patch of land that lies next to his home?"

From an economic standpoint, Mr. Boughner declared that "so many vegetables were grown on the vacant lots of Minneapolis that tomatoes were plentiful at 75 cents a bushel whereas a year ago they were scarce and sold for $1.50 a bushel."

A last benefit he found in this, that "most of those who had gardens belonged to the office class whose opportunities for getting out in the fresh air are small." Traveling about he said he saw hundreds of "glowing faces" as a result of "hoeing and weeding and murdering out worms."

Again there was such a contrast this year, he declared, between the lots operated by the Garden club and those which it had not touched that "the mayor has instructed the police during the season of 1912 to enforce the ordinance covering the cutting of weeds and removal of rubbish from vacant lots" which ordinance has fallen somewhat into disuse.

The excellent impression which visitors gain of a city, Mr. Boughner pointed out as a great advantage. The Model vacant lot garden at the fair grounds, he said, was seen by 750,000 people.

In a social way the results were great, he asserted. As a concrete example of this he cited a garden in a block where lived two Jews, a Norwegian, two Germans and a New England family. Before the garden experiment none of the families had ever had anything in common, but before the summer was over, said Mr. Boughner, "all the families were visiting freely. The gardens in many instances were social centers."

In telling of how the citizens were aroused to join the Garden club, Mr. Boughner who is its president and who was chairman of the garden committee of this year's "civic celebration," declared that various methods were used but that he found that "intelligent newspaper publicity alone will cover a city with gardens."

WORKS WITHOUT FAITH.

Faith Came After the Works Had Laid the Foundation.

"While a coffee drinker I was a sufferer from indigestion and intensely painful nervous headaches, from childhood. (Tea contains caffeine—the same drug found in coffee)."

"Seven years ago my health gave out entirely. I grew so weak that the exercise of walking, if only a few feet, made it necessary for me to lie down. My friends thought I was marked for consumption—weak, thin and pale."

"I realized the danger I was in and tried faithfully to get relief from medicines, till, at last, after having employed all kinds of drugs, the doctor acknowledged that he did not believe it was in his power to cure me."

"While in this condition a friend induced me to quit coffee and try Postum, and I did so without the least hope that it would do me any good. I did not like it at first, but when it was properly made I found Postum was a most delicious and refreshing beverage. I am especially fond of it served at dinner ice-cold, with cream."

"In a month's time I began to improve, and in a few weeks my indigestion ceased to trouble me, and my headache stopped entirely. I am so perfectly well now that I do not look like the same person, and I have so gained in flesh that I am 15 pounds heavier than ever before."

"This is what Postum has done for me. I still use it and shall always do so." Name given by Postum Cereal Co., Battle Creek, Mich. There's a Reason, and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter. A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

GRANVILLE

Granville, O., Dec. 15.—Granville friends, are in receipt of cards announcing the wedding at Mansfield on Saturday, Dec. 9, of Miss Nina Bingham, daughter of Mrs. Alice Bingham, to Mr. William Shepard. Mr. and Mrs. Shepard will be at home after February the first, 329 Burg avenue, Wyoming, Ohio. Both are former students of Deniversity and both have many friends in Granville who extend congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Lawrence and son James, who have been visiting here for the past several days, left Friday morning for Cincinnati where they will visit their daughter, Mrs. F. D. Kingsley, for a few days before returning to their home in western Illinois.

At the regular meeting of Arbuthnot Temple, No. 388, Pythian Sisters of this place, held on Tuesday evening of this week, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: P. C. Maude Montgomery; M. C. T. King; E. S. Hazel Letherman; E. J. Esther Lake; manager, Letitia Philbrook; M. of R. C., Sadie James; M. of F., Cora Ezerett; protector, Flossie Evans; O. G., Alta Jones. The newly elected officers will be installed on the evening of Tuesday, Jan. 2.

Miss Sadie Lewis, of Cleveland, who has been visiting friends here for the past week, is now visiting relatives in Newark for a short time before returning home.

Rev. and Mrs. C. N. Harford left Wednesday for Indianapolis, where they will spend the winter with their daughter, Mrs. C. M. Eddy.

Mr. Charles Thornton has traded his property on West Maple street for a 54-acre farm belonging to M. B. D. Cooperider on Jug street, southwest of Alexandria. Mr. and Mrs. Thornton will move on the farm about March 1. Mr. Cooperider will move on the Frank Granger place on Burg street about the same time.

The regular meeting of the Travelers' club of Granville, this week was held in the parlors of the Baptist church and the following interesting program was carried out: "Army Posts," Mrs. Sinsabaugh; "American Congress," Mrs. Bridges.

Mrs. Bridges accompanied her paper with four piano solos by famous American composers. The book, "Love's Crucible," by Mary Shepardson Pomeroy, was presented to the club by Miss Mary Wilson.

After a short visit with the Misses Della and Sara Morris at their home a short distance southwest of the village, Miss Fannie Jenkins has returned to her home in Columbus.

MOTION PICTURE OPERATOR KILLED BY ELECTRIC SHOCK

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 15.—Willie Rhodes, aged 16, was electrocuted in a moving picture theater in Portsmouth last night. Kirk Seay, another boy, was badly shocked. Rhodes was employed as operator and when he attempted to turn on the current on the moving picture machine fell over and died instantly. It was said that a short circuit caused the machine to be charged with electricity and several thousand volts passed through the boy's body.

NEWARKITES ARE KEEPING POT BOILING

The effort being put forth by the members of the Salvation Army to raise funds for the Christmas treat for the worthy poor of Newark, is progressing nicely considering the inclemency of the weather we have been having for the past week. It is hoped that all will join in with the Army in its plans for the helping of the poor and distressed and by giving what they can to make it possible to do much good this winter.

TWO LADS ACCUSED OF AN ATTEMPT TO WRECK LIMITED

Medina, O., Dec. 15.—Accused of plots to wreck a Cleveland and Southwestern Traction Line Limited near here, Earl Kreger, aged 13, and Earl Sherman, aged 17, are under arrest.

The first attempt was made Sunday night. Fence rails were laid on the track on a sharp curve, and held in place by spikes driven into the ties. E. I. Hillis, a farmer, discovered the obstruction and removed it.

Two days later another obstruction was found on the track.

Headache?—It's Your Liver

Too Many People Take Headache Powders When a Liver Tonic is Needed.

Try Olive Tablets—the Substitute For Calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the one substitute for dangerous calomel. They do all of calomel's work without any of its bad after effects.

There is no necessity, when you take Olive Tablets, of following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts or castor oil, as you should after taking calomel.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel or any other metallic drugs; they are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, sugar coated, easy to take and never gripe or cause weakness.

Thousands of people take one every night at bedtime just to prevent disorder of the liver, constipation, bad breath, pimples, headache, etc.

Olive Tablets are made of pure vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

Dr. Edwards, calomel's old enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with liver and bowel troubles.

Try them for a week. Take one or two every night.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement of its own."

MAN CHARGED WITH MURDER IS SAID TO BE MANIAC

Lafayette, Ind., Dec. 15.—"You cannot hold a madman responsible for his acts," declared Attorney Elmore H. Barce in his argument in behalf of the defendant in the trial of John W. Poole, charged with the murder of Joe Kemper. Every fact in evidence, he said, went to show that the killing was accidental and that it was done by a lunatic. He declared the state feared to question Emory Poole, the defendant's son, as to his father's mental condition, for the lad, bitter as he is against his father, knows that Poole is crazy.

MAJORITY RULE STIRS PROTEST

Republicans Object to the Democratic Program.

A PART OF THE DAY'S WORK.

Heard In Every Congress Whichever Party Is In Power—Harking Back to Tom Reed—Change In Inauguration Day Improbable—How Reed Smoot Has Gone to the Front.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Dec. 15.—[Special.]—The right of the majority to control is a well established principle, yet there never has been a time when the minority did not protest and insist that a different course be followed. During the extra session of congress the Republican leaders were constantly complaining about the manner in which the Democrats passed over certain days in order to avoid the consideration of bills which were before committees and which were not reported.

As the Democrats of the house adjourned from time to time the protests became a regular feature. And yet the Democrats had arranged a program which was satisfactory to them, which had been approved by the caucus and which they intended to carry out. The protests on the part of the Republicans availed nothing. The Democrats showed that they were able to control. It is probable that these protests will be heard again during the present session.

Same as Other Tariff Sessions.

When President McKinley called congress in extra session in 1897 the Republicans did not allow anything to be considered but the tariff bill. Tom Reed evolved a scheme whereby the house automatically adjourned three days at a time. Two years ago the same method was followed. At those times, however, the speaker did not appoint the standing committees during the extra session.

There was no legislation save that which the Republicans thought absolutely necessary. The same course pursued in the Democratic house caused a great deal of criticism from Republicans, although the Democrats went farther and named all the committees. Criticisms by the Democrats on former occasions and criticisms by Republicans during the Sixty-second congress were simply made for political purposes. That sort of thing happens whichever party is in power.

Little Interest Shown.

Once in awhile Bob Henry of Texas announces that he is going to push his scheme to amend the constitution so as to change the date of inauguration and the time of meeting of congress. Changes in the constitution are very hard to make. The income tax amendment, passing both houses almost unanimously, has difficulty in securing the necessary three-fourths of the states.

In view of such a condition it is almost absurd to think that the date of inauguration will be changed. The people are not interested in the subject.

Smoot's Rapid Advance.

For many years the only man in the senate who was allowed to have a place on both appropriations and finance in the senate was Allison of Iowa. He won the place by long continuous service in the senate and on account of his prominence. A few other men of prominence have been given that distinction. Gorman of Maryland, Daniel of Virginia and Hale of Maine were so honored. Only after twenty years of service was Gallinger of New Hampshire granted such distinction.

Yet Reed Smoot after eight years in the senate is made a member of both of these big committees. From the persecuted Mormon apostle of six years ago, fighting for a seat, the Utah senator has made rapid strides toward the front rank in the senate.

To Protect Uniforms.

Congress as a body and members individually are appealed to from time to time to protect the army and navy uniforms. But congress has no power to say that the men wearing uniforms of the army and navy shall be admitted to places of amusement in the various states. That is something that congress cannot regulate under the peculiar form of national state governments. Every state must deal with it just as with all other local affairs.

A movement is on foot to secure uniform laws in all the states which will prevent army and navy men from being discriminated against when they appear in public places.

Military Life and Marriage.

Army authorities do everything they can to discourage marriage by second lieutenants. The navy will not permit graduates of the academy to marry until two years after they leave Annapolis. Both the army and navy have found that marriage is a draw back among enlisted men and do all they can to discourage it. No married man is permitted to enlist, if the recruiting officers know it. There is no place around a military post or a navy yard for women married to enlisted men. There are hardships for women married to officers unless one or the other is well lived financially. Cupid and Mars do not seem to be good running mates.
